23-Year-Old Soldier Killed In Saanich

Three Injured as Truck Overturns; Third Fatality of Year Here

A 23-year-old soldier became Saanich's third fatal traffic accident victim of 1953 early today when an army truck in which he was riding careened off a road in the Gordon Head district.

Dead is Gnr. Archibald Milford Cowan of Elkhorn, Man.

Taken to HMCS Naden Hospital with a fractured arm and facial cuts was L-Bdr. Ronald Brisebois, a passenger. His home town is Montreal.

Gunner D. K. Vannatter, Toronto, identified by Saanich police as the driver of the truck, and Gunner Ross Stinson, Barrie, Ont., passenger, suffered minor injuries and a shaking up. They, too, were taken to Naden hospital.

They are members of 129 Battery, RCA, at Gordon Head.

The accident occurred at about 4.15 a.m. at the intersection of Gordon Head Road and Ruby Road. Noise of the crash awakened nearby residents.

PINNED BY TAIL-GATE

The dead soldier's body was pinned under the truck, the upper part of his body crushed by the tailgate's edge.

A Victoria Auto Wrecker's truck was called to hoist the truck before the soldier's body could be removed.

Sgt. Jack Hamilton and Constable Fred Post of Saanich police said that the truck had been traveling north on Gordon Head Road when it went off the left side of the highway, hit a telephone pole guy wire, bounced off the pole into a ditch and turned over.

Brisebois and Stinson both were thrown clear of the careening vehicle. Police had considerable trouble extricating Vannatter from behind the wheel.

Dr. R. Spicer and Dr. E. L. McNiven attended. The victim was pronounced dead at the scene.

The body is at Sands Mortuary, where an inquest will be held Monday morning at 10.

Political Pot

B.C. Social Credit League's membership drive is averaging 150 new members a day, Percy Hawkins, Vancouver Island Socred organizer, said today.

The last three days, he said, have been exceptionally good as the mainland reported 800, 700 and 750 new members daily.

In the same three days on the Island, Mr. Hawkins claimed, 200 new members have been signed up daily.

"Those were very good days," admits the organizer. "About 150 a day is average."

He said the big upswing came after the Socred government's defeat on the floor of the legislature.

The Island objective is 20,000 new members before election day. Mr. Hawkins would not release figures, but said the drive is "progressing favorably."

He estimates Socred membership has increased 600 per cent since the last election.

"We didn't elect a member on the Island last June," said the organizer. "This time we feel it will be a different story."

In Victoria alone, the party has organized 80 Social Credit groups, each with their own president, vice-president and secretary. The entire city has been carved into sections for organizing purposes.

B.C. Socreds will not ask for Alberta aid in the form of speakers during the coming election campaign, a Socred official said today.

"There will be no request for outside help," he said. "We feel there is plenty of ability among our own ranks."

Last year some Alberta cabinet ministers and Premier E. C. Manning participated in the campaign.

The empty corridors of abandoned, old Oak Bay High School will experience one more noisy, apprehensive June.

The traditional testing period won't be suffered by students this time, however. Oak Bay Socreds will have committee rooms there until a week after the June 9 election.

As Oak Bay Council granted permission for rental at Wednesday's council meeting, Clr. Patrick Birley drew attention to the fact the district returning officer will also make headquarters in the school.

"Is there anything sinister in this?" he quipped.

Malan Doubles Majority in Sweeping Win

Still Gaining In Late Returns

PRETORIA (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel Malan has won the South African election with possibly a doubled majority for his party in Parliament.

Leading newspapers in opposition to the prime minister's racial policies conceded he had won Tuesday's polling. Tonight Malan was forging still farther ahead.

At that time returns gave his Nationalists 54 seats, the United party 49 and the Labor party four. There were 48 results outstanding, and 39 of these are in Nationalist strongholds.

Victory in those would give Malan's men a majority about twice the 13-seat edge they had in the last assembly of the 159-member House. The 159 members include three sitting representatives of negroes and there is one by-election pending.

IWA Contract Negotiations Start Today

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Wage negotiations between the CIO International Woodworkers of America Union and forest industrial relations for a 1953 contract with some 160 coast lumber and logging operators opened in Vancouver today.

The union, with international secretary Carl Winn of Portland, Ore., heading the seven-man bargaining group, has said it will ask for a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase and six other points. Operators have not yet indicated what stand they will take.

The companies and union failed to agree on terms last year and a 45-day strike resulted.

In addition to the general wage increase, the union was expected to ask for six additional paid statutory holidays, travel time for loggers and lumber workers, union shop security and incorporation of the present cost-of-living bonus into the basic wage.

New Liberal Leader Confers Here

Liberal election planning slid into high gear today with the arrival in Victoria of Arthur Laing, new leader of the party. Mr. Laing (seated) reported to Jack Maltman, Liberal organizer (left), and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Victoria MLA, that mayors of Vancouver and New Westminster may be Liberal candidates in the coming election. "We are hopeful Mayor Fred Hume and Mayor Toby Jackson will both run," he said. Mr. Laing will address the Laurier Club at the Monterey Restaurant tonight. (See Page 13.) (Times photo.)

RCMP Snare Key Figures In Vancouver Drug Drive

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Twenty-eight persons, including three "key figures" in international drug traffic, were under arrest today after a lone Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer risked his life in a two-month masquerade as a drug addict in Vancouver's teeming underworld.

The officer, referred to only as "Mountie X," broke the biggest round-up of drug offenders in Canadian history by buying supplies from peddlers and later working his way into the close-knit illicit traffic until he became in demand as a peddler himself.

King pins included in the round-up, police said, were Norman Talbot, 36; George Eldridge, 39, and Walter Dowhal, 23.

Police explained that the traffiker was the man who distributed the drug in wholesale lots to peddlers after receiving the supplies from the distributor or wholesaler.

Police declined comment on the international source of the drugs. The 28 rounded up were charged today as peddlers and bail was set for all, except one, at $15,000 each when they were remanded for eight days. Talbot's bail was set at $20,000.

With fellow-officers giving him surveillance where ever possible, the lone investigator risked his life and became "so good he was pestered all the time by other addicts wanting to buy from him," one of his superiors said.

The spokesman said the investigator, whose name will be withheld until the roundup is completed, was "associated with all levels of this vicious trade, ranging from the common criminal addict to the more important distributors."

The officer said the cleanup was the biggest in Canadian history, and wiped out 90 per cent of the drug traffic in this port city. It started with a series of raids by 18 RCMP officers and four city detectives Wednesday. By midnight 28 had been arrested and warrants were out for two more persons on charges of selling drugs. Seven of the arrested were women.

The RCMP said the previous high for drug arrests in the city was 17 in January, 1952.

Pro-Peron Mob Burns, Loots in Capital

Violent Aftermath Follows Bombing at Buenos Aires; 6 Killed, 92 Hurt in Explosions

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Rioting pro-Peron mobs stormed unrestrained through the Argentine capital Wednesday and early today, burning and sacking opposition centres in a violent aftermath to a bombing at a rally addressed by President Juan D. Peron.

The government announced that six persons were killed and 92 injured in the two bomb explosions that stampeded the crowd gathered Wednesday in the city's central Plaza de Mayo. Peron was not hurt.

Headquarters of all Argentine opposition parties — except the Communists—went up in flames before the raging mobs that chanted "viva Peron" as they looted and burned. The fashionable Jockey Club, centre of Argentine high society, was also put to the torch.

Scores of persons suffered minor injuries during the rioting but no serious casualties were reported. The government announced that a North American citizen was among several persons arrested for questioning in connection with the bombing. It identified him as Esteban Jacyna of Herkimer, N.Y., a trainer with a touring circus.

In addition to destroying the Jockey Club, the rioters fired the headquarters of the Radical, Socialist and Democratic-Conservative parties and wrecked restaurants and bars before some semblance of quiet was restored to the centre of the city.

Violence and looting continued early today, however, in nearby residential areas.

Police halted motor traffic in the streets before the burning building, but no organized effort was made to stop the sacking or put out the fires. A band of reinforced federal police stood precautionary guard over the independent newspaper La Nacion, only five blocks from the Jockey Club, but no attacks were made against the building.

The violence marred what had been planned as a triumphal celebration for Peron. The Plaza de Mayo meeting had been called by the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor as a demonstration of united support for the president, now battling to control soaring prices and end a meat shortage.

Mass Arrests of Douks Contemplated by A-G

Bonner Says Facilities Being Built In Readiness for Nude Paraders

The provincial government, apparently adopting a "get tough" policy with law-breaking Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, is preparing facilities to cope with mass arrests in the Kootenay country.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, just returned from the trouble spot, said today an "increasingly firm attitude" will be taken by provincial authorities towards the hard core Freedomites regarding taxation and school attendance.

The attorney-general said the government is prepared to cope with the expected initial reaction to this policy, which probably will be mass nude parading and demonstrations leading to wide-scale arrests and imprisonment. (See story page 2).

Facilities are now under construction, and more are contemplated, to house those taken in mass arrests, he said.

"Regarding all recent incidents, it should be clearly recognized that arrests have not taken place only for want of evidence.

"This government is prepared to treat any member of the Freedomite sect against whom it has evidence of lawlessness in the same fashion as any other resident of this province is treated."

The attorney-general said despite heavy concentrations of RCMP in the area, and virtually all the bloodhounds available, no evidence has been obtained which would lead to conviction of any of the arsonists.

He said all evidence suggested that the fires were being set by the Sons of Freedom within their own communities and in some cases by the home owners themselves.

Mayhew Ill, Not Serious

PUSAN, Korea (Reuters)—The condition of Robert W. Mayhew, Canadian ambassador to Japan who was suddenly taken ill and rushed to hospital Wednesday night, was stated today to be "not serious."

Mayhew, 72, was to greet Canadian troops who arrived here today.

The British legation said Mayhew would be able to return to Tokyo tonight or Friday. Details of his illness were not given.

U.S. President Seizes Initiative In Policy Speech

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower challenged Russia's new leaders today to prove their will for peace by ending the Korean war, lifting the Iron Curtain from satellite countries and joining a world disarmament pact that would outlaw atomic weapons.

He seized the diplomatic initiative from the Communists in a major foreign policy speech listing specific "deeds" the Russians can perform to demonstrate the sincerity of their recent peace talk.

He said the death of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin has given his Kremlin successors "a precious chance to turn the black tide of events" sweeping the world toward atomic war, but warned that "we do not yet know" whether they mean to do it.

Mr. Eisenhower interrupted his golfing vacation at Augusta, Ga., and flew here to deliver the 3,500-word address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He planned to return to Augusta late this afternoon.

President Eisenhower's talk on foreign policy and international affairs today will be rebroadcast on CBC's trans-Canada network from 5 to 5.30 this afternoon.

Diplomatic circles hailed the speech as a "momentous" declaration of the new administration's readiness to negotiate a just cold war settlement with Russia.

The main points of the broad U.S. policy he sketched were:

1. This country is ready to enter into a five-point world disarmament treaty providing for an outright ban on atomic weapons, definite limitations on the size of each nation's armed forces, and "a practical system of inspection under the United Nations" to enforce the rules.

2. If disarmament can be achieved, the United States will join other countries in setting up a "fund for world aid and reconstruction" out of billions saved on military preparations.

3. "The first great step" toward a general world settlement "must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea." This should be followed immediately by "political discussions leading to the holding of free elections in a united Korea."

4. A Korean truce "would be a fraud" unless the Communists simultaneously call off their aggressions against Indo-China and Malaya. The Soviet attitude on this question will show whether the Communists seek "merely an expedient truce in Korea" or "genuine peace in Asia."

5. Russia can demonstrate good faith in Europe by (a) freeing Communist satellite countries to choose "their own forms of government"; (b) releasing "thousands of prisoners still held from the Second World War"; and (c) agreeing to an Austrian peace treaty without further delay.

6. The United States is willing to work for a "united Germany, with a government based on free and secret elections." But the German problem cannot be separated from the broader question of lifting the Iron Curtain throughout Europe to open the way for "free movement of persons, of trade and of ideas.

Mr. Eisenhower said the whole world will be waiting to hear Russia's answer to these challenges, and asked that "whatever the answer be, let it be plainly spoken."

"The auger for peace is too great, the hour in history too late, for any government to mock men's hopes with mere words and promises and gestures," he said.

"The test of truth is simple. There can be no persuasion but by deeds."

He was cautiously hopeful that Russia may now be ready for peaceful deeds.

"A new leadership has assumed power in the Soviet Union. Its links to the past, however strong, cannot bind it completely. Its future is, in great part, its own to make."

He appealed to the new Kremlin leaders to face the grim fact that there is no real hope for any nation unless the opposing powers halt their present atomic arms race.

EISENHOWER TRANSLATES WAR COSTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower calculated today that if taxpayers' money could be diverted from war to peace, 30 modern brick schools or two hospitals could be built for what it costs to make one heavy bomber.

Translating war costs into peace items, the president said:

"The cost of one modern heavy bomber is this:

"A modern brick school in more than 30 cities.

"Two electric power plants, each serving a town of 60,000 population.

"Two fine, fully equipped hospitals.

"Some 50 miles of concrete highway.

"We pay for a single fighter plane with 500,000 bushels of wheat.

"We pay for a single destroyer with new homes that could have housed more than 8,000 people."

OUTLOOK FOR THE FOREST INDUSTRY

Market Good if B.C. Can Meet Competition

This is the second in a series of three background articles on the current wage talks in B.C.'s logging industry.

By DON INGHAM
Times Staff Reporter

A substantial market—not excellent, but good—is waiting for B.C. lumber and wood products if lumber, pulp and plywood mills can meet competition in the world market.

Marketing conditions for goods produced by the timber industry, which contributes 54 cents to every dollar of the province's income, are being examined closely by all concerned in the industry in view of the opening this week of negotiations between operators and the International Woodworkers of America (CCL), bargaining agent for 32,000 loggers and sawmill workers.

The United States, which last year took 2,249,000,000 feet of lumber from the province, gives every indication of buying as much, if not more, in 1953.

Comparatively low water freight rates allow B.C. shippers to compete in the big eastern U.S. construction market, which likely will be expanded this year by about 3 per cent. To date, though, there are no signs of unusual buying activity south of the border.

Unknown quantity in the list of leading world buyers is the United Kingdom, which bought 772,000,000 feet of B.C. lumber in 1952, roughly one-third that shipped to the United States.

The United Kingdom prefers B.C. wood, but is not averse to buying elsewhere if a good bargain can be made, and it's hamstrung by a dollar shortage.

However, the reality of scarce log supplies lies behind a bit of bluffing and jockeying being indulged in by Sweden and Finland, which last year filled two-thirds of Britain's needs.

Russia's activity in the export market seems to be more because it is the "thing to do" rather than from a sincere en-

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

THAT TRITE BUT true saying about one-half of the world not knowing how the other half lives was again brought home to me by a letter recently received from Kenya, and sent by the East Africa Women's League, to which belongs a former Cowichan woman now resident in that colony.

True, headlines and news broadcasts have blazoned abroad the terrible situation created by the Mau Mau fanatics of the Kikiyu tribe, telling of the bestial atrocities they have committed upon their own tribesmen, women and children, as well as upon European settlers. But even those stories have failed to convey the effect of such terrorism upon the day-to-day lives of the people.

FRIGHTENING FACTS

In the League's letter, an Englishwoman gives a vivid picture of the tensions endured:

"I have spent more than half my life here and ever since we came here we have never employed, nor wished to employ, any tribe other than Kikiyu either in the house or on the farm. Many of those who came to us in the old days are still with us and so are their children. . . . Now I am told that I cannot trust any of them and the worst of it is that I know it is true . . ."

"Practically every case of murder or destruction in a European home has been an 'inside' job; the gang has been helped by a member of the household staff, sometimes one of 20 years' standing. We don't know what terrible pressure has been put upon these men to betray their masters."

MURDER AND DESTRUCTION

"Scarcely a day passes without bringing news of loyal Africans murdered, and attempts made upon a neighbor's life," she continues. "But most of us dread the nights most, especially when our husbands are out on patrol with the Kenya Police Reserve, leaving us to hold the fort with our children.

"If I live to be 90 I shall never forget the awful sensation of waking up in the night, gun at hand, listening not only with one's ears but as if were every pore of one's skin as if one's whole body were a sort of receiving set tuned to catch the slightest warning sound."

LEAGUE'S WORK

Because there still exists a misconception in some quarters as to the attitude of the European settlers to the natives, it may be interesting to tell something of the East Africa Women's League. It was formed by white women living in Kenya and is now some 4,000 strong.

The League was started years ago in an effort to help the native women. And they needed help, for Kikiyu custom demands, that in the dense bush, the sick were put out for the hyenas when death seemed imminent, mothers having their unweaned babies with them. Twins were suffocated at birth and the most cherished child, cutting its top teeth first, must perish. Prolonged of complicated child birth was looked upon as offense to the ancestral spirits of the mother's tribe.

TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

The League has tried to solve these problems through such organizations as the African girls' teacher training centres, maternity and child welfare centres, domestic science courses, Girl Guides, Red Cross and St. John Ambulance, the nurses' schools in the main mission and government hospitals that have been doing good work for years, and the new African women's club movement.

But, in the past year or so, outside subversive influences have served to negate the progress thus made and have turned the Kikiyu into a tribe not only divided against itself but inflamed into anti-Christian, anti-European practices expressed with primitive savagery in its most revolting, horrible form.

In other words, Mau Mau is another manifestation of the virulent poison that is making its appearance in the festering spots of world politics.

Internal Strife Blamed For Doukhobor Uprising

NELSON (BUP)—The British Columbia government gave its opinion on causes of fresh Doukhobor strife today after a five-hour emergency meeting of three cabinet ministers with local authorities.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black and Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers made a surprise flying visit to the Kootenays Wednesday.

Bonner said later that there were a number of radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobors opposed to leaving Canada. He said their opposition, plus a leadership quarrel, was responsible for recent rail bombings and house burnings in the Kootenays.

"It is significant that persons involved in the latest incidents appear to be among those opposed to leaving the country."

"The (Doukhobor) community in addition," he said, "is engaged in a dispute over spiritual and material leadership resulting in a four-way conflict within the communities."

Considered the spiritual leader is red-bearded Stefan S. Sorokin, now in South America seeking new homes for the Doukhobors who have staged bombings, fire raids and nude parades in the Kootenays for 30 years in violent bids to maintain their communal form of life and religion.

Plaque to Mark 50th Anniversary Of Frank Tragedy

EDMONTON (CP) — Ralph R. Moore, deputy minister of economic affairs, said Wednesday he will unveil a plaque in the south-western Alberta town of Frank on April 29, commemorating the 50th anniversary of the Frank Slide which wiped out the mining town in 1903.

The early-morning disaster came when a gigantic wedge of limestone 1,300 feet high, 4,000 feet wide and 500 feet thick crashed down from Turtle Mountain. Seventy million tons of rock swept over two miles of valley to a depth of 100 feet in approximately 100 seconds, taking 66 lives, burying homes and the entire mining plant.

Police Hold Murder Theory In Park Case

Babe Skeletons Still Unidentified

VANCOUVER (BUP) — The mystery that has surrounded the discovery of the skeletons of two small children in Vancouver's Stanley Park last Jan. 15 is slowly being lifted.

Police, who were baffled by the finding of skeletal remains which had lain for five or six years, reconstructed every possible phase of the crime.

The resultant theory is that the children were led into the woods by a woman, possibly their mother, and slain with a small hatchet which was found near the shallow leaf-covered grave. After covering the tiny bodies with her cheap fur coat, the woman panicked and raced to Burrard Inlet, 200 yards from the scene, and plunged to her death.

One of the mysteries that shrouds, and probably will continue to shroud the case, is the identity of the tots. Police have traced over 41 pairs of children whose age is comparable to the murdered children's, believed in the six or seven-year-old age group, but no headway has been made.

CORONATION ANNOUNCER

LONDON (CP) — Bernard Braden, native of Vancouver who has become popular in the British entertainment world, will be one of the corps of television announcers for the BBC during the Coronation proceedings.

Grain Handlers Ready to Accept Seizure of Elevators by Ottawa

VANCOUVER (BUP)—A spokesman for the CIO Grain Handlers' Union said today the union would accept government seizure of the five strike-bound grain elevators in Vancouver and New Westminster. The move is under discussion now in Ottawa. The 60-day strike has cost an estimated $4,500,000 in lost revenue.

The spokesman for 279 striking grain workers said: "We don't care who writes the pay cheques, so long as we get the wages and working conditions we want."

He said the union hopes that government seizure of the elevators would lead to some kind of settlement in the demands of the strikers.

The spokesman said the union wants to get negotiations under way and would accept any negotiator. The grain companies have refused to comment on the possibility that the government will run the elevators.

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister Howe said today he has no intention of making a special trip to London to attempt to get Britain's approval of the new International Wheat Agreement.

Mr. Howe said, speaking for himself, he has no intention of going overseas before he sails for the Coronation. He hoped to leave about the middle of next month.

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, April 16th—Looking forward to summer in the garden? Now's the time to smarten-up your chrome garden furniture with S.O.S. Yes, S.O.S. Scouring Pads will take that rust off in a twinkling. You know how bright and shiny S.O.S. makes pots and pans. Well, it will do the same for dozens of things around your home. Your porcelain tubs and basins, for instance. And S.O.S. quickly removes any starch that's burnt on your iron. You see, S.O.S. Scouring Pads are a magical combination of sturdy, interwoven fibres and grease-dissolving soap. Outdoors—indoors—all around the house . . . I've found that S.O.S. is just about the most useful cleanser there is.

You'll Get High Praise from your husband for your good shopping sense, when you buy him this "bargain" in good looks and economy . . . a B.V.D. NYLON TRICOT SHIRT. The smooth, attractive nylon tricot fabric is comfortable to wear. The fused collar and cuffs never wilt—they stay good-looking for the life of the shirt—without ironing. Truly, laundering a B.V.D. Nylon Shirt is so easy. Just a quick rinse—wait a while—and the shirt's ready to wear. You save the price of the shirt in laundry bills alone! What's more, a B.V.D. Nylon Shirt outwears an ordinary shirt several times over. Buy him one $12.95—in white, blue, tan or grey.

Your Baby will thrive on loving care and food made specially for him. And what's more "specially for baby" than the delicious, nutritious variety of HEINZ BABY FOODS? He'll love them. And that's a fondness you can encourage, mother, because Heinz Baby Foods are so good for baby. All of them — from the nourishing variety of Heinz Pre-Cooked Cereals to the tempting Heinz Junior Foods—are pre-cooked in Heinz spotless kitchens, so all you have to do is take them from the tin, warm them up and serve. They're wholesome, appetizing and good. No wonder Heinz foods for babies are the best-selling baby foods in Canada!

If Your Husband is like most I know, he likes his white shirts white. So next washday, be sure to use Blue. Yes, Blue does the best job of all in keeping clothes from turning yellow. We all know you have to rinse the wash to get the clothes really clean — then simply put a dash of Blue in the water to get them really white. Blue is kind to the finest fabrics—you're not taking chances when you use it. What's more, it costs just a few pennies a month. And just wait 'til you see the glorious results! Hubby's shirts, your sheets and towels and precious table linen . . . all as white as can be! Yes, for the whitest wash, use RECKITT'S BLUE.

There Are Lots Of Things You'll Like about BLUE BONNET DE LUXE MARGARINE. One of them is the shape of the De Luxe Blue Bonnet quarters. They go right from the package to the plate . . . and they're individually wrapped in pure aluminum foil. That's to preserve the delicate, sweet flavour of De Luxe Blue Bonnet . . . delicious fresh from the refrigerator—or when served melting hot on toast, meat or vegetables. Incidentally, besides the natural nutrition of good ingredients, 16,000 units of Vitamin A are added to every single pound of De Luxe Blue Bonnet. And another thing you'll like about De Luxe Blue Bonnet . . . the handy chart on the package shows where to cut for recipes.

Spring Speaks Of Outdoor Living . . . in the park, on picnics, at holiday resorts—and all that outdoor living speaks of valuables left unguarded around the house—and that situation whispers of burglars and shouts a reminder to rent a Safety Deposit Box at the BANK OF MONTREAL! All of which leaves me a bit out of breath but with the satisfaction of having delivered some good advice! I speak from experience, too—having had my own home broken into, one unhappy springtime. That's when I resolved never to leave my precious possessions at the mercy of burglars again! And rather than face the risks of carrying valuables with me on my travels, I put them in a B of M Safety Deposit Box . . . and leave my worries in there with them! 7 Hacked, Shot By Crazed Man

Mass. Boilermaker Kills Six Members Of Family, Self; Another Son Missing

LAWRENCE, Mass. (UP)—An unemployed boilermaker with a "persecution complex" fortified himself with whisky and hacked or shot to death seven—possibly eight—members of his family before taking his own life as police closed in on him.

Peter J. Akulonis, 39, staged the day-long carnage here and in neighboring Methuen Wednesday, finally ending his own life with a bullet in his head.

The fate of the killer's 10-year-old son, Peter, Jr., was not known and police were searching for him today. The father called for the boy at school in Methuen Wednesday, apparently after he had slain the boy's mother and younger brother with a hatchet.

As reconstructed by police, this was the sequence of events in Peter Akulonis' day of horror:

He called at the home of his brother, Alphonse, 32. He told Alphonse he wanted a drink and Alphonse went out and bought whisky and ginger ale. During his brother's absence, Peter killed his mother, Mary, 72; Alphonse's sons, James, five, and Paul, two.

When Alphonse returned with the liquor, Peter used the same carpenter's hatchet taken from Raymond's car to slay his brother, attacking him from behind as he walked into the kitchen.

The slaughter was discovered hours later by Alphonse's wife, Claire, who returned from work at a Methuen laundry early in the afternoon and shrieked: "My whole family is dead."

She ran screaming to the home of a neighbor who summoned police, a physician and a priest.

Meanwhile, Peter had driven to his own home and hacked to death his wife, Madeline, and their five-year-old son, Michael. He then picked up his second brother, Raymond, whose car he had borrowed.

Police were waiting in a cruising car near Peter's home when Raymond's car drove up at supper time. Capt. Sidney M. Gilman of Methuen police said Peter apparently spotted the cruiser before he leaped into the back seat and shot Raymond with a .22 rifle.

"His head snapped back," Gilman said. "Then there was another muffled report from inside the car and by the time I got there the gun was slipping from Peter's hands. He had shot himself just over the right temple."

The two men were taken to a hospital but both died soon afterward.

'Temporary' Civil Servants To Get Pensions

Retirement Benefits Seen for 60,000

OTTAWA (BUP) — The government dropped the controversial full-dress defense debate in the Commons temporarily today to push through a bill making "temporary" civil servants eligible for superannuation pensions.

The bill, which was to be referred to the House Banking and Commerce Committee for detailed study, would extend retirement benefits to approximately 60,000 federal employees who have not been entitled to them previously.

The temporaries have been on the payroll for many years, some of them up to 40 years, but the distinction between "temporary" and "permanent" civil servants will be wiped out.

By civil service standards, a federal employee can only be classified as "permanent" if his job is of the type that is not likely to be declared superfluous in the forseeable future. Many thousands of wartime employees still on the payroll are in jobs which have not been declared "permanent" by the commission.

The defense debate ended its first phase Wednesday when Defense Minister Brooke Claxton answered opposition criticism on several scores. House Committee Chairman Louis-Rene Beaudoin was expected to start putting the detailed appropriations making up the 1953-54 defense budget of $2,000,000,000 before the committee soon.

Crusader's Guns Trap Red Train in Tunnel

OFF KOREA (CP)—The Canadian destroyer Crusader thundered back into action Wednesday off Korea's east coast, trapped a Red supply train between two tunnels and splintered the cars with gunfire.

The Crusader pulled close inshore to watch a stretch of track between two tunnels for signs of Red rolling stock. Then CPO Alf Goold, of Victoria, spotted smoke in the target area and Lieut. Fred Copas, also of Victoria, the gunnery officer, ordered all guns to open fire.

The initial salvos closed one tunnel and damaged the train enough to stop it. Then, by the light of star shells, the Crusader blasted the train.

UN Task Force 77 planes joined the pounding at dawn, both the aircraft and the Crusader during the day to keep repair crews off the rubble.

The Crusader blasted a train in similar fashion last October.

PREPAREDNESS PLAN

LONDON (CP)—The civil defense corps of England and Wales is steadily growing. Recruiting of 9,087 during February brought the listed strength to 253,940 men and women.

MARKET GOOD

thusiasm to sell lumber abroad. She is not considered a strong contender, nor does Britain look to the USSR as a steady and reliable source.

There is, therefore, a certain percentage of her needs that must be filled from here—if the dollars are available to pay, and prices are attractive enough to start them rolling westward across the Atlantic.

NEEDED CONCESSION

One Briton who noted the "insignificant" business between British Columbia and the United Kingdom wrote as follows:

"It seems it would need a very big sacrifice from the Canadian side to bring the price of British Columbia wood into line with European price levels, and as far as we can detect from our side of the Atlantic, that much-needed concession is still a long way off."

Other foreign markets, as they concern British Columbia, can be summarized as follows: China, vanished; Australia, down one-third; New Zealand, no change; South Africa, down; Japan, trying to re-open.

DOMESTIC RISE

Economists have noted, though, that a 10 per cent rise in domestic consumption, which totaled 3,000,000,000 feet in 1952, could account for more lumber than all the minor export buyers lumped together. That seems assured within a few years by present population and gross production growth.

The only drawback to the promising Canadian potential is the 7 per cent increase in freight rates March 16 that cut the competitive position of West Coast mills in markets east of the Rocky Mountains.

To date there has been no industry-wide indication of how the problems of 1953 will be met.

COUNTER MEASURES

H. R. MacMillan, chairman of the board of MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd., has stated that counter measures are planned to restore export markets. One of these, he has said, is improvement of industrial techniques to provide a kind of processed lumber never before produced in sufficient quantity to push on the U.S. market.

On the other hand, Crown-Zellerbach, which recently purchased all properties of Canadian Western Lumber Company, is planning nothing exciting for at least 18 months.

It was expected that when the American firm acquired control of the Canadian Western, which includes such units as Fraser Mills, Comox Logging and Railway Co. Ltd., and a share of the Elk Falls Company Ltd. paper mill at Campbell River, great and glorious things would happen.

Instead, the company seems content to spend the next year and one-half consolidating its position, and letting the new property become integrated with the parent company, before doing anything world-shaking.

The City Cuts It Fine

THE PLEAS AND ARGUMENTS of last month's city council minority have persuaded the majority to approve a tax rate half a mill below that of 1952. To avoid an impasse the aldermen have agreed to 56 mills.

The decision may make a difference of $1.50 in the average taxes paid by the ordinary home-owner this year, will leave the budget with a contingency allowance of $30,000 instead of the $56,000 possible with 56½ mills, and will drop the rate to the second highest figure in the city's recent history.

The importance of the cut is largely psychological. The city may now say that it has reduced its rate, while Oak Bay and Esquimalt have maintained theirs at last year's figures. Saanich has yet to take action.

Actually, the 56 mill rate should produce more money than did last year's higher figure. The 1953 levy is $3,000,000. The 1952 total to be raised by taxes was $2,883,000. This result is largely due to the increased assessment for Victoria, which includes higher valuation on some older properties as well as the additions made by new construction during last year.

Few taxpayers will criticize a reduction in the rate, yet it is interesting to note observations by council members who previously opposed the cut. Ald. Dowell and Ald. Pinfold had both remarked that business was good and people could afford to pay more in these times of "peak production." Ald. Pinfold had suggested merchants were doing two or three times as much business as they were in 1939 and yet their taxes were up only 50 per cent. At the same time, he contended, wage earners had doubled their incomes but were paying only about 20 per cent more taxes on private homes.

The merit of that argument is seen in tax collection figures. Last year the city received more than 94 per cent of its current levy, a percentage which reflects the willingness and ability of property owners to meet their obligation. Last year, too, owners virtually matched 1951 payments of back taxes on property in arrears, although the city was collecting approximately a quarter of a million dollars more from taxpayers in current levy than it had the year before.

In other words, if general prosperity is as high this year as it was last, Victoria is easing the burden on taxpayers when they can afford to pay. It has done this by stripping many appropriations to bare essentials and by eliminating such expenditures as charitable grants to highly valuable agencies and institutions in the city.

There are certain counterbalancing influences. With the approval of the voters last year, Victoria made provision to ease the steep increase in debt retirement charges due in the next few years, and in recent weeks set out a program to collect in advance funds for the construction of a new Point Ellice Bridge. Moreover the base of taxation has been expanded by new development in the city, and amended by the re-assessment of older properties, although the latter trend frequently has raised the cash taxes of the individual to offset the benefits he receives through a lower 1953 rate.

As it stands, the shibboleth of the mill rate has been honored again, expenditure estimates on city services have been trimmed to near nakedness, and property owners who have noted a fractional decline in living costs have been given comparable treatment in city taxation.

If only minor contingencies arise in 1953, $30,000 will be more than enough. If emergency spending passes that amount—and some aldermen are convinced that 1 per cent of the total budget is a narrow enough margin for that account—Victoria may be in trouble.

At all events, the gap between the mill rates of the city and surrounding municipalities is slightly narrower — an encouraging trend under any circumstances, a particularly popular one in the year of a mayoralty election.

Here's A Bargain!

TODAY AND TOMORROW VICtorians will file singly or in small groups into a building on Fort Street and give away a million dollars each. That might well be the value placed on a pint of blood—that or much more—if the pint meant saving a life. And as the Red Cross Blood Donors' clinic says—the life you save may be your own.

Each month the clinic makes its appeal here. For two or three days Victorians turn up to spend half an hour having a bottle of pop, lying on a cot, and chatting with a friend over the subsequent cup of coffee and biscuit. They go away with the consciousness that they have done a worthy deed that cost them nothing, have rendered a valuable service to their community that meant no more in sacrifice than a few minutes' time.

The results are so important—the saving from death of those who need blood transfusions—the investment so slight, it is incredible that the clinic is not deluged each time with men and women eager to help. Yet far too often the clinic must report "poor business." Far too often the bare minimum is received to keep the blood bank going.

After one visit, the average person will become a regular donor, even look forward to it. For those who drop in today or tomorrow while shopping, it's the best bargain in town.

Many Called, Few Chosen

THOSE ENERGETIC CITY council members who have labored in the Social Credit vineyard, and those who have looked speculatively over the fence to determine what profit there might be in such labor, should now have their minds set at rest.

Many were called, but few chosen, and, contrary to fears expressed in some Social Credit circles, the last were not the first.

Victoria Social Crediters have spoken quite definitely to these city fathers. They wanted neither aspirants who wooed nomination, nor those who stood modestly apart, merely indicating their willingness to consent if a proposal were made. Neither Young Lochinvar nor Barkis made the impression that was necessary.

There is nothing to prevent a mayor or alderman from casting his hat in the provincial political ring. He is not disqualified from seeking entry into the senior government because he has been elected to municipal office.

It is a fact, however, that Victoria's city council has not, within recent memory if ever, operated on political partisan lines until the last few weeks. Perhaps the percussion sounds coming from city estimates meetings were not drumbeats for Social Credit. Perhaps they were merely the throbbing of hearts that seemed to keep time with the tune Mr. Bennett called.

The vast body of Victoria electors who prefer to keep city politics free of party will hope the concert has ended. The mayor and aldermen were put into power to handle Victoria's business, not to use the council as a stepping-stone to further political advancement.

It will be hoped that henceforth the city council will devote its full energies to city business, influenced by none of the external pressures that threatened to complicate a year's activities already showing the approaching strains of mayoralty and aldermanic elections in December.

Chaplin's Reply

WHEN BRITISH MOVING PICture comedian Charlie Chaplin left the United States last year on a visit to Europe, strong indications were given that his return to the land of his screen triumphs would be opposed.

At the time there were mutterings of earlier court actions against him on morals grounds. Behind the mutterings could be heard the voice of intolerance raised against individuals whom other individuals suspected of being too radical. It was the letter which caught the ear of the outside world.

Chaplin has now surrendered his re-entry permit. A stop order was placed against him last year. Had he wished to return he would have had to submit to re-examination to establish his re-admissibility to the United States.

If that question had been raised on moral grounds, surely the processes of the United States courts should have determined the issue years ago. The implication is left that Chaplin faced inquiry and investigations not for that reason but for his philosophy and beliefs.

To Canadians the incident is one of regret that our good neighbors to the south have among them forces which would carry a witch-hunt to the point that Chaplin's bona fides as a citizen should be drawn into question.

Mr. Chaplin's surrender of his re-entry permit is a rebuff to such forces and the techniques they use.

LOOSE ENDS

Wordsworth Is Forgotten

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

TINTERN Abbey: Any reporter writing his humble dispatch from Tintern Abbey will be thinking about the imperishable lines written here by the young Wordsworth. But he will be the only living creature within this narrow valley of the Wye who is interested in that poem and its maker. Wordsworth seems to be forgotten in the spot which he made famous wherever the English language is read. The first man I questioned on this subject was cutting a hedge not a quarter of a mile from the huge and broken shell of the abbey. The occasion seemed appropriate for a discussion of the poem. As on that evening long ago when Wordsworth stood here and received his intimations of immortality, the tiny meadow was filled with the bleat of new lambs, the song of birds and the rays of sunset streaming through the empty stone arches.

Hutchison

THE Wordsworthian scene was completed by the presence of a little golden-haired girl who, at her play among the primroses on the river's brink, might have been the original of that timeless child of another poem by the same author. I hoped she would refer to her six dead brothers and sisters and insist (as quoted by Wordsworth) that "we are seven." Instead, she informed me only that the abbey ruins were "thousands and thousands of years old."

The aged hedge-mender was no more communicative. He said he had heard of Wordsworth, though he was not quite sure, but in any case he did not hold with poetry and suchlike. When I proved insistent, he looked up grumpily, a curved hedging knife in his hand, and asked me what useful work a poet ever performed. He and his folk, for a good many generations in the Wye valley, had got along very well without poetry. Having thus dismissed Wordsworth, he began to hack down the overgrown saplings and weave them neatly into a new hedge.

IN THE cosy lounge bar of the Wye valley hotel that night I pursued my inquiries further. My private Gallup poll showed only one man among the company there who had heard of Wordsworth's masterpiece.

A merchant from Chepstow, a few miles down the Wye, admitted that such matters were not in his line. An intelligent young man of the neighborhood offered to show me the remains of the Roman occupation in this district and supplied a substantial account of the ancient battles fought hereabouts, but he confessed that Wordsworth was only a name to him. An elderly American gentleman, having settled here solely to fish for river salmon, refused to discuss anything but that particular species of life, which he found more interesting than his human neighbors.

OBVIOUSLY I was growing tiresome to the residents of Tintern with my brash North American curiosity. A charming lady from Monmouth, up the river, eased the tension by remarking that I should see the historical museum in that town, where Henry V was born. The museum, she added, contained among other things the best relics of Lord Nelson, including his glass eye and false teeth. These, she intimated, would be more worthy of investigation than a half-forgotten poem.

In my ignorance I asked how it happened that the relics of Nelson, the sailor, were deposited in a remote inland town like Monmouth. The lady didn't know, but, her own curiosity aroused, she promised to find out from a native of these parts well steeped in history. He was standing moodily at the bar, in rough tweeds and knickerbockers and so far he had said no word as he gazed with a fixed look of melancholy into a giant mug of ale.

WHEN the lady asked why Nelson's glass eye and dentures were in the Monmouth museum, the melancholy gentleman blushed scarlet at this indelicacy and murmured at last through his trailing mustache: "Lady Hamilton, you know. Girl from Monmouth and so forth."

Whether that is true and what the Monmouth museum actually contains I cannot say, for the institution was closed at this season. But in any case, no one wanted to talk about Wordsworth, without whom the Wye valley would hardly have been known to the world. The talk was of the long spring drought, of its ill effects on the salmon fishing and of last Saturday's horse races.

NEVERTHELESS, "a dark, invisible workmanship," which Wordsworth had perceived in a wider context, still holds the people of the Wye together and "reconciles discordant elements." Ever since the monks from France landed at the head of the Bristol channel and struggled up the river gorges to build their abbey, the people here have been a race apart in perhaps the loveliest corner of England.

No one, not even a sporting crowd in a pub, can escape the pecular magic of this valley, the great forest of oak and ash, the ivy-trailing cliffs and the unraveling curves of the tiny river.

Tiny it all is, easily dwarfed by a thousand scenes in Canada, but, as miniature, perfectly painted. Standing on the cliff edge called Symonds Yat and peering straight down at the horseshoe bend of the river through a billow of foliage, you realize at once why Wordsworth could not tear himself away. And in the sunset, when the soaring walls of the abbey are tinged with orange, any man feels capable of a poem. No use to write it here. It will not be read or remembered by the people of the Wye. The valley itself, the original article, is good enough for them.

Wanted: A Policy for Korea

By WALTER LIPPMANN From Washington

ALTHOUGH an armistice in Korea would now seem to be possible, there is no present prospect of a Korean settlement. There is every prospect that for an indefinite time to come Korea will remain divided at what is now the line of battle—and that the Chinese army will remain in the north and the American army, as the President indicated only the other day, will remain in the south. This state of affairs might go on for years. Korea could easily become a kind of Far Eastern Austria, compelled to wait until much greater issues are resolved elsewhere. We are virtually certain to remain involved for a long time in a divided, devastated and far from docile country.

Lippmann

This is the most likely situation which lies ahead, and to it the next phase of our Korean policy will have to be addressed. We need waste no time and energy quarreling with one another as to whether we will settle for the 38th parallel, the present battle line, the waist or Korea or the Yalu frontier. If there is an armistice, we shall have to sit down where we are now standing.

HEAVY CASUALTIES

The condition of Korea will be very serious. Dr. Howard Rusk believes that there have been 1,000,000 civilian casualties in a population of 22,000,000. About 400,000 dwellings have been destroyed and the ruined buildings, power plants, factories, transport facilities, mining equipment and ships are valued at about $1,500,000,000.

Money needed for relief, rehabilitation and reconstruction in South Korea alone is not likely to be much less than $2,000,000,000 over a period of about seven years. This is the money that is supposed to be needed to restore the per capita volume of goods and services in South Korea to the level it was before the war began. It is a very conservative figure because it supposes that the military expenditures of South Korea will be only at the low pre-war level.

THREE BILLIONS

In any event the costs will be of this order of magnitude. Before anyone starts wringing his hands, he should recall that the cost of restoring South Korea over a period of seven years is considerably less than the cost of the ammunition that is shot off in one year of fighting. The figure for ammunition is something like $3,000,000,000 a year.

We ought to be able to afford that much or something like that much to restore the land where so many brave men have given their lives.

But money alone will not come anywhere near making the condition of life in the Korea peninsula comfortable or even tolerable. The whole Korean nation will have to be given a realizable hope for the future. The Koreans on both sides of the line will have to wait for their future, perhaps for years, for the day—if it ever comes—when the world powers are sufficiently secure against war to permit small but highly strategic countries like Korea to enjoy their independence.

Until that time comes, the great powers will not let go of Korea. And Korea will remain a divided and, however it is disguised, an occupied country.

FUTURE HOPE

The question is where can and where should the Koreans look for that realizable hope for their future? It is a most difficult question and full of anguish for those who must think of it. It is easier to say where the Koreans cannot look for the kind of hope that will sustain them during a long, uncomfortable and tedious and frustrating armistice. They will not find it in any of the announced war aims of the chief belligerents.

They will not find hope in the announced war aims because they cannot be carried out. The war is ending without a military decision, and all the terms as yet announced from Moscow, from Peiping, from Pyongyang, at the U.N., by President Rhee, by Secretary Dulles or by Sen. Knowland are based on the assumption of a military victory.

No one in high place on either side has as yet said anything about Korea which doesn't boil down to the wishful notion that he would like to get out of the military stalemate the profits of an unconditional surrender. Until this illusion passes away, we shall not be rational enough to talk about peace.

SECRET TRIALS

Recently several persons in Egypt were sentenced to long terms of imprisonment on charges of conspiracy.

The important thing to notice about these trials, from our point of view, is that, according to The London Times, "none of the accused were defended by lawyers, the proceedings were held in secret and the names of all witnesses were withheld from the public."

Once more the citizens of this district have generously donated to the Red Cross campaign for funds.

Over 850 volunteers have given freely of their time to exceed the objective of $70,500 for 1953.

May we through your courtesy express our thanks to all those who took part in this very worthy work, as well as to all those who made their contribution in kind.

Campaign co-chairmen.

COMMON SENSE

A fair correspondent writes you, under the above heading, a spirited letter in defense of vivisection and the cruel trapping of innocent little animals for their pelts.

A trapper once told me that after three weeks he has found these poor little creatures still alive; some with their eyes picked out by birds and others with their bodies partially eaten by predatory animals. Such a ghastly sight might melt the heart of even your correspondent.

Everybody who wears a fur, that has been subjected to such horrible conditions, is accessory to this crime and will be judged accordingly; "measure for measure" being the penalty.

I can find no record in the Bible to justify the statement that Christ ate flesh. Mark and Luke tell us that Christ sat at meat with them; but this word was used in a broad sense and included all kinds of food, spiritual and otherwise, as can be proved by reading Gen. 1:29; I Cor. 10:3, etc. Daniel, a man much beloved by God, spurned the king's meat and, after 10 days on a vegetarian diet, his countenance was fatter and fairer than the rest of his tribe.

If your correspondent consumes the flesh of beasts, let her remember what Byron said and with which I am in accord: let nothing pass her beautiful lips when in public, save champagne and lobster salad.

As regards the nail polish incident, as she admits total ignorance on this subject, it would be futile to argue with her, as it would only be a one-sided affair and therefore fruitless.

WE TAKE ALL COMERS

In view of the preference, evidently, of the Times to print letters from superstitionists of the Cadwallader type, while often refusing to print those from people who think for themselves and don't submit to that nonsense, it was refreshing to read the letter "Protect Freedom," bu Pro Bono Publico, March 16.

Some weeks ago, on the Thursday night that Prof. Wallace of Victoria College started his panel discussions over CKDA at 9.05 p.m., Times owner, Stewart Keate, gave his ideas about "Freedom of the Press": that is to say, he clothed those ideas in a form agreeable to most of his listeners, I presume. Yet, how different is it in practice.

In years gone by the Times practiced their freedom more than now; dissenters had their say as well as the conformers.

Just the same, the dissenters will have the last word; they are the ones who will promote progress in thought, and so truth.

FACTS ARE FACTS

Party loyalty and spirit are to be admired, and in this day of blowing straws, your correspondent, Mrs. Fred Moore of Langford, is to be commended. But facts are facts, and one did not need to attend many sittings of our legislature to learn a few.

Many will agree with Mrs. Moore's negative reply to her own question: "Was the business of the province attended to?" but many more will not agree with her as to the cause.

We Conservatives had two representatives in the legislature, Mr. George Miller and Dr. Larry Giovando. They, as did other opposition members, gave their pledge to support proposed government legislation which they felt was for the benefit of the province and its people. What opportunity were they given, until after the government's defeat?

Does Mrs. Moore know the answer given by the premier when he was urged by opposition leaders and members to put aside the contentious Rolston formula, and deal with other urgent and non-contentious matters?

Does Mrs. Moore know the answer given by the minister of education, when, upon being asked to vote sums of money, the opposition requested to know the specific use to which such money would be put?

We Conservatives feel justifiably proud of the dignified, co-operative action of our representatives in the assembly, and far from being "resentful," as Mrs. Moore asserts, they conducted themselves as good men should—in the best interests of the people of the province.

R.S.V.P.

Another unfortunate feature of many Irish churches to my mind, is their bell. We were called to worship from the castle by a stolid bonk-bonk-bonk and often I used to long for the glorious cascades of chimes which come across the fields from the parish church at home. The stolid bonk-bonk-bonks, I am the first to admit, are, as a general rule, far more faithfully answered than are the glorious cascades of chimes.

PEACE INDEED

It is a century and a half since the Indians waged great battles along the Peace River. For 150 years it has truly been a land of peace where no man locks his door. He knows as he goes to bed that there is no need to fear what the morrow will bring. He knows that nothing will break tomorrow's calm, save the breeze that waves the grasses and nods to and fro the red tiger lilies and the Indian paint brush.

Great Queen's Patent Rare Cathedral Gift

Christ Church Cathedral has received some historic documents relating to the early history of the Anglican church in British Columbia.

A descendant of Bishop George Hills, first bishop of British Columbia, recently bequeathed to the cathedral royal letters patent and large beeswax seal which were presented to Rev. Hills, vicar of Great Yarmouth, in 1858 by Queen Victoria, creating the diocese of British Columbia; making him first bishop and granting him the title of Lord Bishop.

To this day the bishop of British Columbia retains the title Lord Bishop under the state appointment. In practically every other diocese bishops serve under ecclesiastical appointment.

The letters patent and seal, together with personal seals used by Bishop Hills and manuscripts of some of his sermons were sent here from England by a member of the Hills family. They were displayed for the first time at the 51st meeting of Synod of the Columbia Diocese held here Wednesday.

For the time being, the historic documents will be placed in the care of the Provincial Archives and will be displayed there. Eventually, when the cathedral is completed, it is intended that the treasures will be placed in a tower room, along with other church relics, where they will be on view to cathedral visitors.

Farmer Charged As Bank Robber

GRIMSHAW, Alta. (CP)—A 22-year-old district farmer was arrested by the RCMP here Wednesday and charged with armed robbery several hours after a lone gunman in sun glasses held up the Grimshaw branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and escaped with $3,443.

Police identified the suspect as Henry Alexander Alfred, who farms near Springburn, about 17 miles east of here. They said the money was recovered.

BA Oil Screens Workers For Communist Activity

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Officials of the British-American Oil Company have revealed that all employees of their plant here have been screened for Communist activity.

G. W. Garton, regional manager, said that the movement has been going on for two years as part of a security measure in an industry that is of prime importance in the event of war.

The company's public statement followed a complaint lodged by the Oilworkers' Union, Local 596. The union objected to a questionnaire which asked if employees had ever belonged to a Communist organization. They also said that a former RCMP officer had been hired to screen all the employees.

Victoria Businessmen Provide Added Capital For Local Hosiery Mill

Glazen Now Heads Group; 3-Shift Operation Planned

A group of Victoria businessmen has loaned McCurdy Hosiery Ltd. sufficient money to ensure production and expansion in Victoria by the only nylon hosiery mill in Canada west of Ontario.

The syndicate is headed by Louis Glazan, managing-director of Victoria Box & Paper. Other members are R. B. Wilson of Wilson Motors, A. D. Baillie of Columbia Carpet, and R. L. Challoner, president of Victoria Box.

Shareholders of McCurdy Hosiery Ltd. last night accepted their offer and elected Mr. Glazan to the company's presidency.

Wes. McCurdy, who established the hosiery mill in 1950, was named vice-president. He will continue as manager of the plant at 35 Erie Street.

OTHERS ELECTED

Mr. Challoner was appointed managing-director, Mr. Wilson secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Baillie a director. Also on the board of directors is George Ripley, brought here as factory production chief when the mill was established two years ago. He will continue in that capacity.

The McMurdy mill's machines were put out of commission by fire June 15, 1952. Effort since has been largely concentrated on re-equipping the plant. Meanwhile, of course, production suffered. The firm's situation was made difficult because insurance coverage did not include production-loss clause.

35 EMPLOYED

The money advanced by the Victoria businessmen will hasten the resumption of three-shift around-the-clock production by the 35 skilled work-people on the firm's staff.

Explaining the new financing to McCurdy Mill shareholders last night Managing Director Challoner said the present issue of 8,000 n.p.v. shares will be increased to 18,000. The loan will be repaid out of profits.

"The plant has been turning out a first-class product that has found great market acceptability," said Mr. Challoner. "We felt it would be a great misfortune for the city" if this new industry was handicapped by financing difficulty.

TLC to Query Candidates On Politics

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council voted Wednesday night to send questionnaires to political candidates concerning their opinions of labor legislation.

John Aubry, who proposed the motion, said it followed a plan of the Vancouver labor council.

"It's a waste of time and a duplication of the Vancouver council's work," one delegate remarked.

"Labor has had a bad time in the last few months, and we've got to know the answers to some of these questions," said A. P. Rayment, council secretary, in seconding the motion.

Robert Milliken, business agent for the General Teamsters' Union, took exception to a press report of a week ago that a union in the rival Canadian Congress of Labor had signed an agreement in Nanaimo granting the highest truck driver's wage on Vancouver Island.

"My union signed an agreement last January granting exactly the same pay and conditions to employees of another Nanaimo firm," he said.

The Lincoln Memorial in Potomac Park, Washington, D.C., dedicated in 1922, cost $2,940,000.

Toronto Metals Still Slipping

TORONTO (CP)—Base metals continued to lead a general mild decline toward the stock market's close today.

The metals reached their lowest point since December, 1950, a drop of more than 1½ points on the exchange index. Industrials and western oils lost about half an index point each while golds were mixed.

Brunhurst was a heavy trader, moving more than 370,000 shares to drop pennies. Most other New Brunswick base metals also slipped, and uraniums weakened slightly.

Papers, utilities, refining oils, banks and manufacturing companies led losses to industrials.

Higher-priced base metals led the list lower as Hudson Bay slipped.

Senior golds were firm but secondary issues weakened. Juniors slipped as Aunor and Sullivan traded lower.

Few Changes in Vancouver Prices

Trading was light and price changes fractional on Vancouver Stock Exchange this forenoon.

United and New Continental were chief gainers in the oils. United was 1.30 at noon, a three-point advance. New Continental hit 1.35, a gain of five. Canadian Atlantic was down 15 to $6. Home Oil traded at 8.75, up 25 cents from Wednesday's close.

In the mines Estella was 56, a penny gain. National Exploration rose two to 55. Western Tungsten dropped five to 2.50. Sylvan rose a penny to 52 and Pacific Nickel gained two to 1.10. Quatsino was unchanged at 42.

Canadian Western Lumber was $9⅜.

Steels Lead New York List Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market made quiet progress today for the third consecutive session.

Steels and motors made the best showing, with railroads joining in on the upside. Aircrafts were higher also along with oils and rubbers. Other sections of the list were mixed.

Canadian stocks were lower. Distillers Seagram dropped ⅛, Canadian Pacific ⅜, International Nickel ¼ and McIntyre ½.

Canadian issues on the American stock exchange showed little change.

Montreal Slow

MONTREAL (CP)—Slightly lower prices continued to dominate the stock market in quiet afternoon trading today.

Senior metals, papers, miscellaneous industrials, and steels participated in the decline. Beverages were mixed. Senior oils and banks were steady.

Mining and western oil prices were mainly unchanged and the few movements were of the penny variety. Trading in both sections was slow.

Election Causes South African Issues to Fall

LONDON (Reuters) — The major part of today's activity on the stock market occurred in South African issues.

Early activity based on South African election returns resulted in widespread lowering of prices in kaffirs as the Cape offered shares but the losses in London were not as severe as those at Johannesburg.

Tolls Should Be 'Last Resort' in Financing Roads

Strong opposition to toll highways in B.C., except as a "last resort" is voiced by Victoria Automobile Club president, R. W. Hibberson.

Toll roads are "the most expensive of all facilities for highway users," Mr. Hibberson declared.

American Automobile Club, with which the Victoria club is affiliated, also has raised "a red flag of warning against indiscriminate use of tolls as a method of financing."

"Toll roads should be looked to only as a last resort," Mr. Hibberson said. "No government funds should be spent on a toll road, nor should we allow a route built as a free road to become subject to tolls."

CWL-Zellerbach Deal Up for Decision Soon

Directors Will Recommend Acceptance But Decision Rests With Shareholders

Directors of Canadian Western Lumber Company Ltd. will recommend to shareholders acceptance of a share-exchange offer from Crown Zellerbach Corporation of San Francisco, CWL president Henry J. Mackin told shareholders at the annual meeting at Vancouver today.

"It is for every individual shareholder to accept or reject as he sees fit," Mr. Mackin said.

Crown Zellerbach has sent a "memorandum of intent" to buy the Canadian company.

The American company, a giant in the forest industry, offered a two-for-one split of its present shares, and to exchange one of its new shares for three Canadian Western Lumber.

CWL shares on the Vancouver Stock Exchange currently are trading between $9.25 and $9.75. Highest price this year was $10.62, lowest $8.62. Authorized share-capital is 3,200,000 n.p.v., and there are 3,193,550 in the hands of 8,000 registered holders.

Some shareholders yesterday suggested the basis of exchange should be one Zellerbach for two and a half CWL rather than three. They also pointed out Canadian dividend tax-credits of 20 per cent would be lost to Canadian shareholders if an exchange was made for a United States company's shares. However, the discussion was purely informal since the question of acceptance of Zellerbach's offer was not before CWL's annual meeting.

Life Insurance Plays Vital Part In Community Life

"Life underwriting plays a vital part in the community's life, Robert S. Albritton of Los Angeles declared during Wednesday's annual congress of Victoria and Vancouver Island branch, Life Underwriters' Association of Canada. J. Roger H. Oakley, Victoria, branch president, was chairman of the day-long meeting of 78 Vancouver Island insurance agents addressed by four life underwriting experts.

"Life underwriting deals with more than just policies, figures and salesmanship," said Mr. Albritton. "A life underwriter shares in the intimate experiences and problems of families and businesses . . . is privileged to play a part in the community's life.

John L. Bennett, New Westminster, CLU's Canadian president, told the life insurance agents from all parts of Vancouver Island that life insurance's future income was one of the most important things in life. "Everything you do, every plan you have for your wife and children depends for its completion upon future income."

Duncan J. Davidson, Victoria, discussed "Selling With Canadian Social Security."

Leslie W. Dunstall, Toronto, CLU's Canadian general manager, reviewed two subjects. He outlined the association's three-year course of study for CLU qualification and suggested there would be an increasing demand by the insurance-buyer for underwriters to make themselves professionally qualified by obtaining CLU designation. He also discussed Government Annuities Act, stressing that if the upper limits of the subsidized annuities are raised the only people to benefit would be those of "substantially more than moderate means."

$ EXCHANGE

MONTREAL (CP)—The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 1⅝ per cent in terms of Canadian funds at noon today. Wednesday's noon rate was 98 13/16 cents.

Pound sterling $2.77 3/16, against $2.77¼.

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar was 1/32 cent higher at a premium of 1 11/16 per cent in terms of U.S. funds today.

Pound sterling 1/16 cent at $2.81⅝.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP). — Prices generally took on a better appearance today on the Winnipeg grain exchange based on rallies on United States markets. Most gains, however, were small.

Highlight of the moderately active trade here was the improved export interest in barley. The export demand was in connection with overnight sales believed to the United Kingdom and Belgium, involving more than 300,000 bushels of Canadian barley.

There also was some domestic shipper buying in both oats and barley. American interests took oats and rye in connection with inter-market spreading.

Flax was more actively traded than of late, with seaboard and industrial houses on the buying side. Prices, however, failed to respond, and generally showed lower at the close.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP).—A little easiness in wheat and a slightly firmer tone in old crop soybeans provided the only features of a dull session today.

Heavy supplies of cash wheat discouraged buying in that commodity. Old crop soybeans attracted demand because of limited offerings of cash beans by the country.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

(EN ROUTE TO VICTORIA WITH THE TYEES)—Manager Cec Garriott and his Tyees are scheduled to arrive home today and the picture is this:

The club is "weaker on pitching depth, defensively not quite as good, and potentially as strong offensively," compared to last year's Western International League pennant winners, so thinks Garriott.

Catching should be more than adequate from a defensive standpoint, both holdover Milt Martin and 26-year-old Sam Brusa, a nine-year veteran of pro baseball, being capable receivers. Offensively, neither pack much power, with Martin probably the biggest plate threat.

Walker

Joe Clardy, a newcomer, holds down first base and a welcome addition he should prove to be. He has been impressive in pre-season exhibition games, both in fielding and at the plate.

Lu Branham will be back at second base and, although late in reporting to camp, is rapidly rounding into shape. Branham has been hitting the ball hard, though not consistently, in workouts and Grapefruit League games.

Ronnie Odekirk, who had a bad game against Vancouver Capilanos, is still a good glove man though short on experience in comparison to Jim Clark at the shortstop berth. Clark is with the club, but as yet is unable to throw the ball properly from the field.

It is expected that it will be at least two weeks and possibly a month before Clark will be able to return to full-time duty. His injured finger, mangled in a grinder this winter, is still stiff to the extent that he is unable to grip the ball tightly. However, he has been exercising the finger diligently and is anxious to return to duty as soon as possible.

Don Is A Permanent Fixture

Don Pries is the incumbent at third and on that score the Tyees should have no worries. Pries, besides being one of the top third basemen in the league last year, is a valuable utility player and also a .300 hitter that any club would be only too pleased to have on their roster.

The starting outfield for the Tyees will likely find Gale Taylor in left, Cec Garriott in centre and Napoleon Gully in right. Taylor has been the hitting star in exhibition games and has been used almost exclusively in the clean-up position. He is a positive long ball threat, a hard runner who conforms to Garriott's offensive style of game and a good defensive gardener with a seemingly adequate arm.

Garriott saw little action in exhibition games, but is still the roaming outfielder he was last year, dominating the centre-field pasture and always a threat at the plate. Of his possibility of taking a regular turn, Garriott said: "If anyone wants to beat me out of my position, they'll have to hustle to do it."

Gully still isn't meeting the ball as his record proves he can, and though Granny Gladstone's right field shoes may be hard to fill, Garriott believes that Gully will be adequate. He is definitely not the whip-hitting type that Gladstone was, but in pre-season games has given the impression of being a long-ball threat once he gets his timing down to scratch.

That then appears to be the starting line-up, except, of course, for the pitching staff. And this is the bubble that Garriott hopes won't burst.

It should be quite evident that no team can lose the likes of Jehosie Heard, Cal McIrvin, Leroy Han and Ben Lorino, the big four of last year's team, and expect comparable replacements all at once. And obviously the Tyees as of now, have not those replacements. Bill Wisneski and Bill Prior, two righthanders, are the only two experienced holdovers. The remainder of the pitching staff, for the present, will be made up of rookies and relative rookies.

The Problem Is Fairly Obvious

Best of these would appear to be Don Hopp, who came to the club late last year, highly recommended, but saw no action. Hopp is a highly regarded righthander whose service to the team will probably be limited in that he has taken an army "physical" and is due for a call-up in the armed services at any time.

The others upon whom Garriott must depend are Victoria's own Berlyn Hodges, Zebediah Walker, Dean Powelson, newcomer Williams from Pocatella, and Chuck Abernathy. Abernathy is in the process of being converted from a first baseman, a position he held with the club last year. Walker is a curve-ball artist. Hodges has shown promise but leaves the impression that he needs added seasoning. The same could be said for Powelson.

A brief summation of the club that will play two exhibition games this week-end is that given two or three starting pitchers, the Tyees will be a contender.

Bill Bottler, due from Portland any day now, may fill one of these voids, but at least two others would appear to be a prime need. Realizing the exigency of the situation, Garriott was known to have been in contact with several clubs prior to the team's departure in an attempt to effect a remedy.

But as it is, defensively and offensively, the club appears capable. Pitching! That's the needle in the haystack that must be found. Don't take our word for it. Take Garriott's.

"We need pitching" he says of the otherwise seemingly well-balanced club. And exhibition results have borne out this fact to a positive degree.

Local Club Accepted By Ski Association

Victoria Sno-Birds Ski Club officials have just been notified that the club has been accepted into the western division of the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, the association being the ruling body for all amateur skiing in Canada.

This is wonderful news for Sno-Birds Club members who may now participate in Canadian and international ski meets sanctioned by the Canadian Amateur Ski Association, and the club itself will be allowed to hold official ski tournaments of its own.

* * *

Last Sunday four inches of powder snow on a crust of ice was the order of the day in the Mt. Brenton area. About 16 skiers were out making the most of these perfect conditions. Club members will see some action shots of this week-end when Barbara Davies reels off some of her latest films at the general meeting slated for late next month.

* * *

Come Easter and Victoria skiers take to the hills all over the Northwest! On a trip to Stevens Pass in Washington State were Rose Ballantyne, Ann Adamson, Laura Sheret, Duncan Paine, Bruce Paine, Jack McColl and George Wood.

Another Mt. Brenton trip is planned for this week-end and anyone interested can register at 905 Government Street.

BABE DIDRIKSON ZAHARIAS FACES TOUGHEST TEST

George Will Wait With Rest of World

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — You can picture the scene now as Babe Didrikson Zaharias is wheeled into the operating room at Beaumont, Friday, and the seconds tick by slowly, so slowly.

The brittle silence of the hospital corridor will be punctuated by the soft, although ponderous, tread of a vast, mountain of a man, pacing back and forth, back and forth, his massive brow creased with worry and glistening with beads of perspiration.

This will be one time that George Zaharias won't be able to help his famed wife, to slide up to her with an encouraging word when she is hard-pressed in a golf match, to advise her in a business deal, to rejoice with her in victory and console her in defeat.

Never has there been a husband more devoted, more concerned about the welfare, and more proud of the accomplishments of a wife than George is of his beloved Babe.

It always has been Babe this and Babe that, with never a thought of himself. Whenever he could spare the time from the operating of the golf course they purchased at Tampa, with dreams of making it the classy layout it once had been, he was at her side.

Any tournament in which she was entered that did not see this gigantic man plodding over the fairways, usually alone, his coat open to show a tentlike expanse of white shirt, hat pushed to the back of his black thatch of hair, cigar gripped tenaciously between his teeth, well, it lacked something.

We have so many mental pictures of him. The day at Grossingers when the Babe was giving an exhibition, and George, seeking to get a closer view of her play, trying to go down a steep embankment and taking a galloping, rolling fall which would have disabled an ordinary man, but which left him only flustered, thanks to his training as a wrestler, and with his cigar still clenched in his teeth.

George on the first tee, standing there like a Goliath and taking movies of the Babe, perhaps with a filmless camera, but doing his bit to add color and informality to the occasion.

George hoisting his vast bulk up the ladder from a tug to the liner which brought Babe home from her triumph in the British Women's Tournament, and nearly falling in his eagerness to reach his wife.

George, just a year ago, taking us on a personally conducted tour of the Tampa course which was their pride, his telling of the plans they were making to recondition the expansive property, and his remark: "Babe loves to come here, take off her shoes, and just walk around in the grass. She's never had anything of her own like this, and she just can't believe it."

And George taking us into the pink stucco cottage, a revamped caddy house, which theye were fixing up as their permanent home; a cozy little place with a large, blue-tinted living room and a dining room and kitchen with bright yellow walls, and equipped with every electrical aid to a housewife that could be found.

His poring over scrapbook after scrapbook with us, with pictures and clippings of Babe's triumphs, dating back to her Olympic days, and pictures and clippings of a younger, trimmer, handsome George Zaharias when he was a big name in the wrestling world.

So many mental pictures, and now the picture of him, helpless and in mental agony, pacing back and forth, back and forth awaiting the word that the sports world prays will be good.

WEATHERMAN MAY HALT IKE'S HURLING DEBUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The weatherman held out some hope today that President Eisenhower might at last open the Washington baseball season.

It has been pretty much of an off-again-on-again proposition since the president got his invitation to throw out the traditional first pitch.

The ceremony was set for 2 p.m., EST, today, but there remained a chance that rain might wash out the ball game between Washington Senators and New York Yankees.

The weatherman said showers were possible.

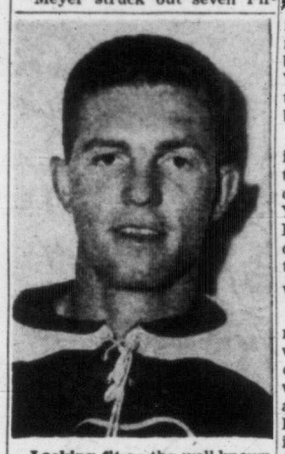
The Washington club's first three games already have been called off because of adverse weather conditions.

Russ Pays Bums First Dividend

Meyer Sets Down Pirates to Give Brooklyn Portion of First Place

Russ Meyer Wednesday gave Brooklyn Dodgers the first major dividend from the winter's biggest player trade when he set down Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 on eight hits to pull the Bums into a first-place tie in the National League with the rain-idled Milwaukee Braves.

Meyer struck out seven Pirates, walked only one and didn't allow anybody to get as far as third base in eight of the nine innings. The only Pittsburgh runs came on a two-run homer by Johnny Lindell, former New York Yankee outfielder who is trying a comeback as a knuckleball pitcher.



Looking fit as the well-known fiddle, Larry Booth added further strength to the Victoria Shamrock roster Wednesday night when he turned out to his first practice of the season at Memorial Arena. The high-scoring centre has been at Normal School in Vancouver but kept himself in shape with road work and should be a great boost to the club when it opens its lacrosse season here April 29.

Only three games were played in the major leagues. In addition to Brooklyn's victory, Philadelphia Phils whipped New York Giants 8-1 in the National League and New York Yankees defeated Philadelphia A's 4-1 in the American League.

WASHOUTS

St. Louis Cardinals were rained out at Milwaukee as were Cincinnati Redlegs at Chicago. Wet grounds and cold weather cancelled the Detroit at St. Louis and Washington at Boston encounters in the American League. Cleveland and Chicago in the American League weren't scheduled.

Little Bobby Shantz pitched well enough Wednesday to win his return to regular competition, but his Philadelphia teammates let him down. Two of the Yankee runs came after errors and a third was a pure gift.

First baseman Eddie Robinson forgot to bend over for a grounder by Johnny Mize and it went for a single. Gene Woodling followed with a long fly to centre which Gus Zernial misjudged and Mize scored. Woodling got another double, entirely deserved, in the seventh inning to score another run. Allie Reynolds was the winning Yankee pitcher.

Minor Soccer Game Schedule

Games scheduled for Saturday and Sunday in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association follow:

Eight Victorians Enter Empress Quarter-Finals

Local Women Hold Six of Eight Spots

Of the eight golfers advancing in the women's section championship flight of the 23rd annual Empress golf tournament at Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club Wednesday, six are from Victoria. The remaining two are Americans.

One of the tourney favorites, Mrs. H. McIntyre of Victoria, downed Mrs. H. Berni of Portland, who had ousted Miss Beatty Peatt of Victoria Tuesday, 5 and 4. Other locals advancing were Mrs. M. McKenna, Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards, Mrs. S. Horsford and Mrs. W. Erickson and Miss Marion Kennedy.

MAJOR UPSET

Miss Kennedy eliminated the only other Canadian golfer left in the round by defeating Mrs. E. Thomas of Kimberley, 1 up. Highly rated Mrs. W. H. Yardley was the only city golfer to fall by the wayside, losing 3 and 1 to Mrs. McKenna in the biggest upset of the day.

Mrs. J. Lerback of Astoria, Ore., defeated Mrs. D. Moore of Portland, 2 and 1, while Mrs. G. Greene of Seattle was the other American to advance by posting a 5 and 4 verdict over Miss H. Strand of Portland. Mrs. Greene was runner-up to champion Onaugh Paipter of Victoria last year.

Mrs. McIntyre was scheduled to meet Mrs. McKenna in today's quarter-final play while Mrs. Erickson and Miss Kennedy clashed in another all-Victoria match.

The women moved to Victoria Golf Club today and will play the quarter-finals, semifinals and final, slated for Saturday, at the Oak Bay course.

Championship flight results follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP

Mrs. H. McIntyre defeated Mrs. H. Berni, 5 and 4.
Mrs. M. McKenna defeated Mrs. W. H. Yardley, 3 and 1.
Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards defeated Mrs. H. A. Schmitt, 3 and 2.
Mrs. G. Greene defeated Miss H. Strand, 5 and 4.
Mrs. J. Lerback defeated Mrs. D. Moore, 2 and 1.
Mrs. S. Horsford defeated Mrs. W. Tonkin, 2 up.
Mrs. W. Erickson defeated Mrs. M. Clark, 4 and 3
Miss M. Kennedy defeated Mrs. E. Thomas, 1 up.

Last Hope for Local Male Divoters

Victoria's hopes of having an Empress golf tournament men's champion will ride on the broad shoulders of Vic Painter (left) and Bill McColl, checking score cards after Wednesday's easy victories. Painter waltzed to a 5 and 4 win over R. D. Clay, while McColl copped an identical verdict from C. W. Walker in two all-Victoria matches.

Vic Painter, Bill McColl Win Again

Bill McColl and Vic Painter are the only two local divoters remaining in contention for the 23rd annual Empress golf tournament championship after play was completed in the men's section at Victoria Golf Club Wednesday.

The strong swingers from Colwood Golf and Country Club posted comparatively easy victories over two city opponents in the second round of match play. McColl beat C. W. Walker, 5 and 4, while Painter checked in an identical win over R. D. Clay.

The two local golfers stand a strong chance of making it an all-Victoria final. Painter was scheduled to meet Paul Glaser of Seattle in today's round while McColl was drawn against R. S. Osgood of Los Angeles in the feature matches. McColl was runner-up to champion Ed Thompson last year.

FIVE AMERICANS

Osgood, one of five Americans left in the championship, beat J. G. Gibbs of Seattle, 4 and 3, while Glaser downed H. N. Onstad on the 19th.

J. W. Kendall of Portland took a 2 up decision over L. C. Johnson of Vancouver and met fellow townsman R. Clark in today's draw. Clark beat W. J. Gilbert, 2 up.

Ed Rapp of Vancouver, only other Canadian in the championship, beat W. J. Fowler, also of the Mainland city, on the last hole. Rapp was to meet C. M. Royal of Seattle, who defeated M. W. Curtis of Portland, 2 up, in today's quarter-finals.

Championship flight results follow:

CHAMPIONSHIP

J. W. Kendall (Port.) defeated L. C. Johnson, 2 up.
R. Clark (Port.) defeated W. J. Gilbert, 2 up.
Vic Painter (Vic.) defeated R. D. Clay, 5-4.
P. F. Glaser (Sea.) defeated H. N. Onstad at 19th.
R. S. Osgood (L.A.) defeated J. G. Gibbs 4-3.
W. P. McColl (Vic.) defeated C. W. Walker, 5-4.
C. M. Royal (Sea.) defeated M. W. Curtis, 2 up.
E. Rapp (Van.) defeated W. J. Fowler, 1 up.

NED GARVER MAY NEED OPERATION

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers hinted Wednesday that an operation may be necessary for Ned Carver's bad left knee. This could mean his loss from the club for weeks.

The pitcher went lame in the Tigers' opener with St. Louis Browns at St. Louis Tuesday night.

LORINO SHOWS FORM

Solons Refuse to Heed Forecasters

By the Associated Press

Nearly everyone picked Sacramento to wind up the Pacific Coast League in the cellar, and they may do so.

But on the basis of what they have done so far in this very young season nobody is going to whip the Solons without a fight.

Manager Gene DeSautels, one-time Boston Red Sox catcher, has his team hustling all the time, as Seattle can attest. Seattle had the game won Wednesday night going into the ninth, with cagey Steve Nagy having a 4-1 lead.

BIG UPRISING

Sacramento exploded for four runs, drove out Nagy and tagged the Rainiers with their second straight loss, 5-4. Seattle arrived home with a tie for first place to show off for its supporters and Thursday was in third place—but still only one full game out of the lead.

The veteran Bob Dillinger delivered a ninth-inning single that drove across the winning run for the Sacs Wednesday night. Nagy started his own downfall by failing to touch the bag on a grounder while covering first. Dillinger's blow came off Tom Lovrich, Nagy's successor on the mound.

LORINO EFFECTIVE

Ben Lorino, up from the Victoria Tyees, chilled a Seattle rally in the sixth inning when he came on in relief. Lorino came on the scene when Seattle had the bases loaded, but threw just two pitches, the second a double-play ball, to retire the side. Lorino was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

In the other ball games, San Francisco downed Oakland, 11-10, in 11 innings, and Los Angeles assumed the league leadership by stopping Hollywood, 3-1. Portland and San Diego were not scheduled.

The Hollywood game saw Eddie Chandler throw a two-hitter and retire 22 batters in succession until tagged for the second hit in the eighth.

Masters Victory Hogan's Best

NEW YORK (AP)—We have talked in recent days with several leading golf writers who saw Ben Hogan shoot parts of those superlative four rounds which won the Masters' tournament at Augusta, Fla., and they feel they witnessed the most brilliant exhibition in the history of the game.

They do not think that any player living or dead ever mastered a tough course to the extent that the dead-panned little Texan did in registering his amazing 70-69-66-69—274 and winning the event by five strokes over an all-star field.

Asked if they are willing to come out boldly and proclaim Hogan the best of them all, superior to Bobby Jones, Walt Hagen, Gene Sarazen and the other greats of the past, they hedge only to the extent of saying the comparison is not entirely fair because of the improvement in equipment.

Aside from pure mechanics of the game, there is no question in their minds.

"Ben is much smarter than any of the old-timers was," said one expert who has seen them all for some 30 years. "I mean, of course, that he is smarter in the way he studies a course and decides exactly how to play each hole before a tournament begins. Ben said after winning this one that he considered hitting the ball right only 30 per cent of the game.

"He didn't hit a bad shot in the four rounds, but that was only part of it. Following him you could see plainly that he always was planning a shot ahead. He knew precisely where he wanted his drive to go on each hole to give him the most advantageous shot at the green, and he was good enough to put it there every time, varying by a matter of feet.

* * *

BEN HOGAN
. . . greatest triumph.

"He had been there practicing longer than any of them, and he knew those greens. . . . We did a breakdown on his four rounds and found that he averaged 34 shots per round from tee to green. He averaged 34½ putts per round."

As perhaps the most striking example of the mite's consistency, we are told that he shot birdie fours on the 520-yard eighth hole his first three times around. The hole demands a long, uphill shot to a blind green which has the contours of a roller coaster. It is just our private opinion that Hogan is the only player who could birdie it three times running.

Some of those who talked with the great little competitor gained the impression that, at 40, he is thinking of quitting competitive golf. They believe he will announce his retirement if he wins his fourth open championship in June. That would tie him with Jones in open victories, a goal some had thought was beyond reach in these times.

It is interesting to note that by winning the Masters' Hogan "qualified" to play in the extra rich Las Vegas tournament next week. He is passing it up, though, being in no pressing need of the $10,000 first prize.

Irvin Pities Lynn

Habs Can Win Cup Tonight

By RAY TIMSON

MONTREAL (BUP) — Boston and Montreal resume the Stanley Cup war at the Forum tonight and Canadien coach Dick Irvin said he felt "sorry" for Lynn Patrick and his Bruins.

Although Canadiens now lead 3-1 and can capture the cup by winning this one tonight, it was no expression of overconfidence by the usually pessimistic Irvin.

"I sincerely feel sorry for Lynn," he said. "The same thing that has happened to his Bruins happened to us a couple of years ago. We eliminated Detroit in six games and then lost the cup in five games to Toronto.

"I just couldn't get them up for the Toronto series, and Lynn obviously is facing the same problem now."

TIRED TROOP

The Bruins, pressed to the limit to eliminate Detroit in the semifinals, looked like a tired troop of tourists when they lost the opening game of the 1953 final. They came back in revitalized form to win the second game, 4 to 1, but then sank into an abysmal slump and blew the important third and fourth games on home ice.

"It's an inevitable letdown after the Detroit series," Irvin said.

"We still could be beaten and I hope my boys don't forget it. But I think this is going to be our year."

A victory tonight would give the habitants the Stanley Cup for the first time since 1946. By coincidence, it was the Bruins they eliminated in the final that year, and in five games too.

"It looks tough, but don't count us out," Patrick said. "Although we are trailing 3-1 and two of the remaining games must be played on Montreal ice, we are still just two games down. And you'll remember that we lost the first two games of the semifinal against Montreal last year and pushed the series to the full seven games."

Sugar Jim Henry could provide the spark the Bruins need to get out of the letdown. Injured here last Saturday when his skate stuck in the ice and twisted his left ankle, Henry will return to the Bruin nets tonight.

PROVIDES LIFT

His replacement, Gordon (Red) Henry of the Hershey farm club had not filled Sugar Jim's shoes, and Bruin players were said to be disheartened at knowing "Old Reliable" wasn't behind them to repel the Canadien thrusts.

"I want to play because I'm sure it will give the team a lift," Sugar Jim said.

Larry Macphail Reported to Have Cancer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Larry Macphail, sports promoter facing trouble with police and racing officials for his outspoken manner, is reported to be suffering from cancer.

Charles Terry, manager of Macphail's cattle and thoroughbred breeding farm at Bel Air, Md., said the 63-year-old Macphail has cancer of the throat.

Terry said Macphail had consulted with Dr. James Moore in New York Tuesday and been ordered not to talk for two weeks. No information was available on the stage of the disease.

The former head of three major baseball league teams, who turned to horse racing administration last year, has gone into seclusion.

Meanwhile, Macphail has posted bond of $263.50 for a hearing Monday on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct at his Bowie race track and assaulting a state trooper.

Kramer Extends Lead Over Frank Sedgman

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Kramer Wednesday night extended his tour record over Frank Sedgman by defeating the Australian in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. The win gave Kramer 40 wins in their current pro tennis tour against Sedgman's 29.

In the other singles match of the return engagement here, Pancho Segura defeated Ken McGregor, 6-3, 11-0. That gave Segura the edge over McGregor in the tour, 51-18.

LANGLOIS THREATENS TO FIGHT IN U.S. NO MORE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (BUP)—Frenchman Pierre Langlois rallied from two early knockdowns to punch out a majority 10-round decision over Joe Miceli of New York Wednesday night.

And he once again declared that his eye-pleasing conquest of Miceli would be has last appearance on these shores unless he is re-admitted to the middleweight elimination tournament.

Body-punching Pierre was in the tournament once, when he fought Rock Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., in a 12-round bout in New York that was billed as part of the tourney. He won that fight, but learned soon after that, somehow, he had been dropped from the tourney. Since then he whipped contender Bobby Dykes before downing Miceli last night.

SEASON ALMOST HERE

Little Leaguers to Start Spring Grind

With a regulation Little League baseball park in the making, officials have set the dates for registration of youngsters between the ages of eight and 12.

All boys within the age limit, providing they do not reach 13 before July 31, who wish to play are asked to turn out Saturday or Sunday morning at 9 at the corner of Hillside and Cook Streets.

Only sticker is that to be eligible the lads must live in the area bounded by Pandora on the south, Douglas on the west, Oak Bay municipal boundary on the east and the Saanich boundary on the north. Boundaries are set and authorized by the Little League headquarters.

Number of teams will be restricted to four in each league and will be allowed to draw their players from a total neighborhood population of not more than 15,000 for the first year. Farm teams for players not making any of the four league teams will be formed and these youngsters will also work out at the park. This will ready them for teams which will be added to the circuit next season.

Spring training is scheduled to begin April 25 and boys who attend must first be registered.

A meeting of tentative managers and coaches for the league will be held at Northwestern Creamery, April 21, at 7.30 in the evening. Anyone interested is requested to attend.

Eilers Capture Fourth Straight Cage Crown

TORONTO (CP)—Vancouver Eilers won the Canadian Senior Ladies' basketball championship for the fourth consecutive year by defeating Toronto Benny's Maids, 53-18, Wednesday night, to win the best-of-seven series in three straight games.

The McDermott sisters, Nora and Louise, sparked the westerners throughout the series. Nora picked up 15 points Wednesday night for a 52 total for the series and Louise also had 15 for a total of 25. All other players on the team scored less than 10 in the final game but Bev Slater had a series total of 24, followed by Noreen Stoddart with 21 and Beryl Piper with 18.

None of the Toronto players was sharp in the closing game as the club sank only six baskets. Mary Barnett netted 23 points in the series. Margery Shedd was next high marksman with 18, Helen Cail counted 15 and Rosemary McGill sank 14.

Vancouver hooped 168 points against Toronto's 104.

FAST START

Nora McDermott started the Eilers' attack with a field goal and three free shots. Eilers had complete control of the play in the first quarter and held Toronto scoreless until the 7.35 mark.

Marilyn Fowler finally sank a basket to make the score 9-2. Vancouver added another basket and the Maids picked up two singles.

Vancouver continued its mastery in the second quarter and allowed the Toronto club only two field goals and three free shots. The westerners added 12 points to lead 23-11 at the half.

The Eilers, never threatened in the third, built up a 22-point lead. Toronto trailed 38-16 at the whistle.

WELL BEATEN

The Maids were a well-beaten club in the final as the Eilers again held them scoreless until after the seven-minute mark. Shedd dropped Toronto's only basket to make the score 47-18. Vancouver added six more points in the period.

Neither team lost a player on fouls.

The east has won the Dominion title only twice since 1926. Windsor Alumni took it in 1936 and Toronto Montgomery Maids copped it in 1948.

DOUBLE DUTY

DURHAM, N.C. (NEA)—Assistant football and head baseball coach Ace Parker has a full Spring schedule, handling the ball club in early afternoon drills and aiding Spring grid workouts afterwards.

LUBY'S PROBLEM

Senators Need First Baseman

By CHRIS KOWITZ Jr., Salem Capitol Journal Writer

CALISTOGA, Calif. (AP)—Wanted: first baseman. Prefer left-handed hitter with experience, but will consider anybody. Apply Salem Senators' spring training camp at Calistoga, Calif.

BUD RUTTAL is scheduled to open tonight's wrestling match in Memorial Arena at 8.30 by matching holds with Paul De Galles. Bronco Lubish tangles with Danno MacDonald in the special event and Dave Jons will grapple with Red Vagnogne in the semi-main. Negro wrestler Luther Lindsay is slated to tackle Walter Kamaroff in the main bout of the evening.

Manager Hugh Luby hasn't resorted to such an ad in the help wanted columns yet, but he's tried nearly everything else in an effort to find somebody to hold down first base for the Senators. Luby has been playing at first himself in spring training exhibition games.

Except for a first baseman, the Solons are pretty well set for the opening of the 1953 Western International League campaign April 24 at home against Calgary.

The rest of the infield and the outfield look good, the catching excellent and the pitching staff untried but promising. Luby considers his team strong in the hitting department.

INFIELD STRONG

Five capable infielders are carried on the current Salem roster. They are Luby, Gene Tanselli, Lou Scrivens, Freddy Haller and Dick Sabatini. Luby and Tanselli were with Salem last year. Scrivens is a rookie out of Willamette University, while Haller and Sabatini are veteran baseballers making their first appearance with a WIL club.

Don Taylor, Connie Perez and Les Witherspoon will probably comprise the outfield, with rookie Bill Nelson as utility flychaser. Perez led the Salem club in home runs with 11 last year, and Taylor and Witherspoon came to the Senators from other leagues.

Veteran Bob Nelson, Salem's No. 1 catcher last season, is back this year. The other Senator catcher is Don Masterson, just released from the army. Masterson played in the California State League a few years ago.

BEVINS COACHING

Bill Bevins, former New York Yankee who made history in the 1947 World Series when he lost a one-hitter to Brooklyn, is serving as coach for the Salem pitching staff, and will also take a regular turn on the mound.

Other Salem pitchers are Jim McGee, Jack Hemphill, Bob Collins, Wayne Rick and Dick Strombach. Larry Borst, a Forest Grove, Ore., youth trying out with the club may be signed soon, making three rookies on the Solon pitching staff. Collins is the only left-hander in the lot. Another lefty, Ernie Telles, is trying to land a berth on the team but has not yet been signed.

Charge Against Cager Dropped

NEW YORK (AP). — A perjury indictment against William Spivey, former University of Kentucky basketball star, was dismissed Wednesday.

The 23-year-old Spivey had been tried once on the charges, but the trial ended in a jury deadlock.

The charges grew out of the collegiate game-fixing basketball scandal.

The seven-foot Spivey had been accused of giving false information to a grand jury investigating game-fixing and bribery of athletes.

The dismissal, in effect, cleared Spivey of the accusations.

Schubert Club Voices Credit to Composer

BY AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

One of the several top musical organizations in town, the Schubert Club of Victoria, sings with lyric sweetness, the songs of its great namesake.

Appearing in concert Wednesday night, under sponsorship of the Esquimalt Lions' Club, at Esquimalt High School, "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Whither," both Schubert numbers, were among the loveliest on the program.

This is the club's first season under its gifted new director, Vera Barclay. Frederic King, founder, and for 30 years conductor of the female voice choir, was a member of last night's large audience.

Blend and pitch of the group is extraordinarily good, and the quality of tone, especially below a double forte, quite beautiful. Mrs. Barclay selects good tempi for her group, not allowing them to drag or sag at any time.

In fact, erring is mostly on the other side. Schubert's "Impatience" was just a fraction too fast for complete enjoyment. "Deep River," with Kathleen Paulin taking the solo, was artistically and musically most satisfying. One wonders that Miss Paulin, the possessor of a true, clear soprano, does not appear more often in the soloist's spot.

Highlight of the choral part of the program was a fine setting by Wilfred Bendall, of Tennyson's poem, "The Lady of Shalott."

FINE CONTRASTS

This pleasing cantata, so well arranged for female voices, is worth doing and worth repeating, Mrs. Barclay, whose beautiful voice, in addition to her conducting talents, is an inestimable asset to the choir, sang the solos.

Pierre and Grace Timp were guest soloists. One inevitably must speak of these two artists as a team. The rich, warm baritone voice of the popular singer was heard to great advantage in two fine groups, with Mrs. Timp at the piano.

Other featured artists were soloist Marjory Sturgeon and Rosa Cooper and Joy Stamford who sang two duets, blending voices beautifully and catching the contrasting mood effectively.

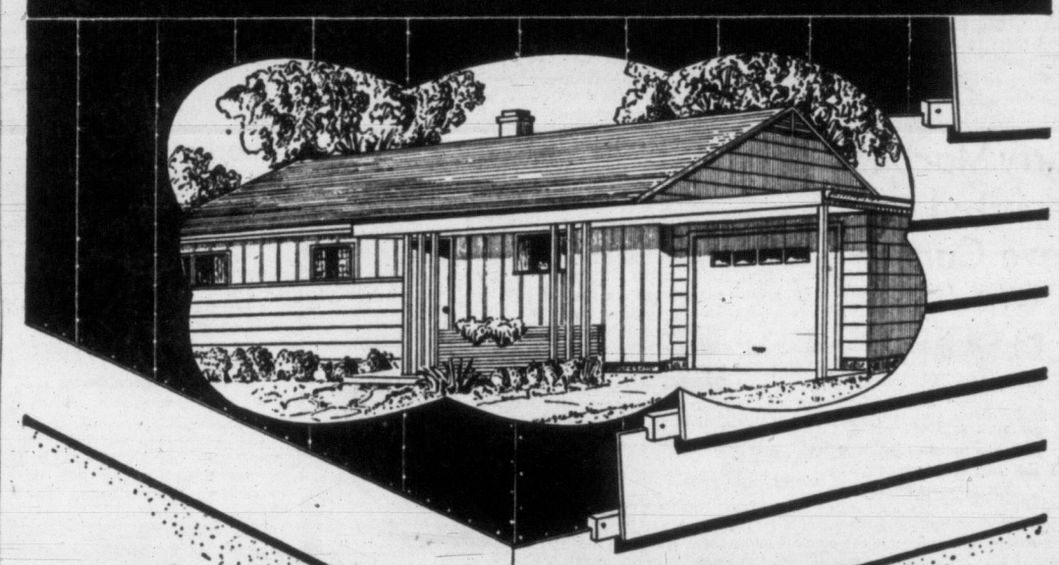
COMPLETE DRY WALL CONSTRUCTION
SAVES TIME . . . MONEY!



NEW *MASONITE TEMPERED PRESDWOOD EXTERIOR SIDING
It's smoother . . . stronger . . . permanent! The permanent exterior siding in panels of 12", 14" and 16" wide by 4' and 8' long. No waste, no splits, no sap. Harder than oak. Won't rot or decay. Fits snugly without gaps. Nails hold securely. It will outweather the weather and outlast the framing. Takes less paint and holds it longer. Tests for years have proven long life, lasting appearance and definite economy of this improved siding.
Available in 3/8" and 1/4" thickness. Comes in natural color Tempered Presdwood that requires priming and paint finish...or surface primed ready for final paint finish.
AND *TEN/TEST ASPHALT PROTECTED INSULATING SHEATHING
It's rigid, bracing insulation! Greater insulation in 5/8" thickness as the large panels cut down on joints and reduce cold infiltration. Faster applications as 4' x 9' panels can be easily handled by one man — reducing nailing, fitting and sawing to a minimum. There is less waste, for even cut-off pieces can be used at eaves and under windows. No open knots or split ends—a sound sheathing. The large panels cover greater studding area and ensure a stronger, more durable structure. A money-saving innovation!
Remember, this asphalt protected TEN/TEST Insulating Sheathing repels water moisture, but still allows free passage of vapour for the prevention of condensation. It builds stronger, warmer, economical — well insulated homes.
WITH *IP. BIRCH HARDWOOD PLYWOODS
It's rich . . . lasting . . . beautiful! The attractive, velvety surface and rich graining of IP. Birch Plywoods make them the accepted choice for interior wall panelling of discriminating home owners. Many individual wall treatments can be realized with these smooth, rich grained plywoods. So bright when applied in natural finish — so distinctive when stained to simulate any wood treatment. Won't check or craze — the finish will last indefinitely.
Practical, too, for wall built-ins, furniture, cupboard doors and counters. Easy to work with ordinary carpenters tools. In panels up to 4' x 8' and thicknesses of 1/8" to 3/4".

Famous Abbey To Be Scene Of Cavalcade

LONDON (BUP) — Westminster Abbey is going into show business to help make money for restoration of its ancient fabric.

An announcement Wednesday said the religious calvalcade "Out of the Whirlwind" would be staged in the Abbey June 10 using the Coronation dais as the stage. This will be the first time a play has been performed in the Abbey.

POWERFUL CABLE

STOCKHOLM (CP) — The world's longest underwater power line, a 50-mile cable, will be laid this summer to carry a 100,000-volt direct current supply of electricity from the Swedish mainland to the Baltic island of Gotland The cable, estimated to cost $4,500,000, will serve an island population of 60,000.

TWO for the SHOW

(?) "MA AND PA KETTLE ON VACATION" (Odeon): My wife Peggy doesn't believe in children going to movies until they are at least seven. "They're too young to understand," she explained, quite kindly. "They grow restless and spoil the show for everyone else."

However, yesterday she had some quaint female "do" on so an exception to the rule was made and Robin, not quite six, accompanied me to cover the Odeon.

"This is about Ma and Pa Kettle," I told her once we were safely ensconsed in the theatre's darkness. "Daddy will explain it to you as the show goes along."

"Where're their 15 kids?" inquired Robin.

"Thirteen," I corrected her gently. "Ma and Pa Kettle only have 13 children."

A hand touched my shoulder in the blackness. "Smarten up, pal. The kid's right," growled an ominous male voice that must have belonged to Tarzan. "Any clunk knows the Kettles have got 15 kids."

I was having difficulty following the plot. Ma and Pa Kettle, on a vacation, were whooping it up (sans children) in a Paris that seemed equally divided between Can Can dancers and spies. Pa had a letter given to him on a plane by a character who was later bumped of. The sight of the corpse horrified me.

"Don't look, darling," I whispered. "Don't be frightened. Remember it's all make-believe."

"Where's the blood?" grunted Robin.

From there on in she fairly dissolved into helpless laughter at the antics of the Kettles, spies, "the pretty lady" Can Can dancers, frantic French gendarmes, FBI men and assorted thugs.

But I felt as though she was laughing at the wrong places and spoiling the show for the others around us. Therefore, in between spasms, I hastened to put her straight as quietly and as briefly as I could.

That's when I first noticed rows of eyes glaring balefully our way through the darkness.

The mouth under the nearest pair of eyes growled at Robin, "Listen, lady, why don't you tell that kid brother of yours to go home. If he hasn't brains enough to understand the Kettles he hasn't brains enough to be allowed out."

Before I could remonstrate Robin had taken me by the hand and led me quietly out. "You'll have to learn to be more quiet, Daddy," she told me nicely, "otherwise people won't like you."

All of which is why Marjorie Main and Percy Kilbride will have to do without a rating this time.

REGULAR ARMY

Loan Fund Set Up for Soldiers

OTTAWA (CP) — An emergency loan fund to help soldiers of the regular army who are having financial troubles was announced Wednesday night by Defense Minister Claxton.

Soldiers will be able to borrow up to $150 interest-free and can pay it back through deductions from their pay.

In addition, grants up to $300 can be made for sickness, accident, death or other unexpected contingencies.

The program will be financed from monies obtained by the Canadian Army Welfare Fund through contributions from active force institutes.

Any Little Piece of Junk May Win Radio Show Prize

A shopping bag full of unrelated junk may win its owner a brand new washing machine when the nationally-known radio show "Fun Parade" comes here April 27.

The show will be broadcast from the Memorial Arena here under sponsorship of the Y's Men's Club.

Whoever attends and has in his possession the one mysterious item that emcee Roy Ward Dixon is seeking that night, wins the washer. It may be an old bathing cap, a bottle opener, a fresh-dug turnip, a 1930 calendar or a fly swatter, or anything else,—there is no way of knowing beforehand.

Wise audiences, therefore, come prepared with a well-stocked gag-bag. There will be 233 additional prizes awarded to volunteers from the audience as well.

CITY ASKED TO CONVERT WATER TOWER SITE TO PARK

Site of the present city water tower east of Belmont Avenue should be dedicated as a park when the existing tower has to be replaced, Linn A. Gale, P.O. Box 115, wrote the city Wednesday.

He suggested, when needed, a new tower be erected a little north of the present one, leaving a site which would provide a panoramic view of the city.

Hundreds Here Renew Symphony Patronage

Seven hundred and fifty Victoria Symphony patrons have to date renewed their subscriptions for the 1953-54 concert season, Mrs. William Parker, in charge of the symphony box office at T. Eaton Co., said today.

Business continues brisk, she stated.

Mrs. Parker was recently appointed to take over box office duties from Mrs. M. Mellander, well-known to symphony concert patrons for several years.

There are still good seats available for old subscribers until the end of the week, Mrs. Parker reported.

On Monday, the box office opens to new subscribers. Former patrons will not have the privilege of retaining their old seats after that date.

Centre dress circle and most of the balcony is sold out, but there is a good choice of seats downstairs, Mrs. Parker said.

Fletcher, Moxham Take Top Spots In Gavel Contest

Top spots in a Golden Gavel public speaking elimination contest at the City Hall, Wednesday night, went to William Fletcher and Frank Moxham.

They will participate in the final round next Wednesday night, at 8.30, in the City Council Chamber, when eight speakers will compete for the golden gavel awarded each year by the Toastmasters' International.

Competition is open to speakers with less than 15 months of formal training.

Mr. Fletcher is a member of a Victoria High School speaking group, and Mr. Moxham, the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Other speakers were: D. Whysker, Mrs. Olga Pashley, W. J. Atkins, Sub.-Lt. G. W. Blackburn, R.C.N., and Dick Harris.

Reservoir's Capacity Held Ample Still

Average daily water consumption in Greater Victoria throughout 1952 was 7,970,000 gallons, it is revealed in the annual waterworks utility report filed at City Hall Wednesday.

Of that total, the consumption within city limits was 6,530,000 a day and outside city limits, 1,440,000. Population served within city limits is 51,331; outside, 10,153.

Safe daily capacity of the Greater Victoria Water District system which supplies Victoria, Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich, is listed at 21,000,000 gallons.

A total of 1,475 feet of main were laid in Victoria-Esquimalt in 1952, of which 4,010 feet were replacement mains. Victoria, which owns the Esquimalt waterworks system, supplies water to Esquimalt.

Water is piped to the city boundary by Greater Victoria Water District from Sooke and Goldstream Lakes.

SELF-STYLED PROGRESSIVES SLOW REFORM

TLC's Gordon Cushing Raps Interference

Revision of the Criminal Code of Canada has been "terribly hampered" by the activities of "certain so-called progressive organizations," Gordon C. Cushing, general secretary-treasurer of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, said here Wednesday night.

"They call themselves the voice of labor, and have even been foolish enough to say that Canada needs no criminal code," he said at a regular meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council.

He explained that some sections of the revised code, when read alone, might give the impression that severe penalties would be incurred by persons indulging in certain union activities, such as striking and picketing. These have been misinterpreted by the "progressives," he said.

"Those sections must be read with other sections of the code," he said. "We have asked for clarification of them, so that it will be abundantly clear that they will not curtail union activity in Canada."

CHANCE TO BOAST

"Unfortunately, due to the pressure of business, the revisions may not be adopted at the coming session of parliament," Mr. Cushing said. "That will give the 'progressives' and Communists the chance to say 'We've beaten the government and have another victory under out belt.'"

He praised the "no politics" policy of the TLC, saying that between 1906 and 1921 the congress found that mixing politics and trade union activity was not in the best interests of working people.

"TLC representatives can approach government, saying they represent the opinion of working people and are ready to do business with the government," he said. "They are accepted and respected as the official voice of workers."

"I hope our labor movement will not become involved in the political crisis here in British Columbia," he cautioned. "You still must have a labor movement after the crisis is over."

As an example of the work of the congress he pointed out that the TLC in 1921 adopted a resolution to press for a national unemployment insurance scheme, and was solely responsible for having the legislation passed in 1941.

"We are still working for better unemployment insurance," he said. "We have strong opposition, though, from employers' groups who, instead of being progressive, are trying to start a backward drive."

It has been proved, he said, that welfare legislation has had no ill effects on the economy of Canada, but that the accumulated unemployment insurance reserve of upwards of $850,000,000 is inducing employers to have payments reduced and withdrawals made from the fund.

He urged the council to welcome government and professional groups of employees into the TLC, and praised the evidences in Victoria of a "strong and active labor movement."

Edward C. Hagell, Veteran Printer, Publisher Passes

Edward P. Hagell, 92-year-old printer and publisher, who died in Vancouver Wednesday, had spent 66 years of his life in the newspaper business.

A daughter, Mrs. H. A. Davies, lives in Victoria. A son, well-known western Canadian artist Edward Hagell, now lives in Ontario.

Mr. Hagell only retired a little more than 10 years ago from the staff of The Vancouver Province.

Trained in England, where he was born, Mr. Hagell came to Canada in 1899, worked first with The Regina Leader, later acquired and published the old Lethbridge News. He subsequently published the Telegram in Lethbridge, surrendered it for a job printing business in 1912.

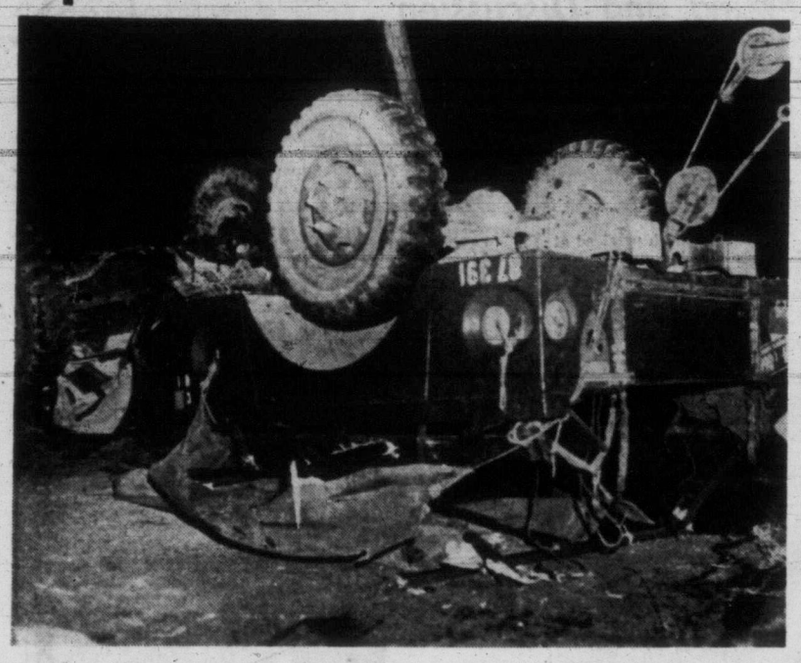
Spectacular Crashes Mar Lower Island Highway Travel Picture



Army truck just after it was lifted to release body of soldier.

One Dead, Four Hurt In 3 Mishaps

Three of Lower Vancouver Island's most spectacular accidents of the year occurred Wednesday afternoon and night.

A 23-year-old soldier was killed in one and three other soldiers were hurt; a Sooke driver was seriously injured in another, and an East Indian truck driver escaped in the third but saw his big lumber-carrying vehicle damaged beyond repair.

Times photographs record the accidents:

Photo at right shows logging truck, owned and driven by Chanchal Singh, 2809 Nanaimo, which was smashed beyond repairable condition on the Malahat Tunnel Hill's "S" curve at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

RCMP report that Singh, going down the hill with a full load of lumber in his truck, swung hard right to avoid a car which appeared suddenly around the curve.

The truck slammed into the rock wall, and lumber was scattered over the highway, but the driver escaped injury.

Seriously injured in the third accident (extreme right) was George Turner, RR 3, Sooke Road. He suffered back injuries when his 1933 model coupe careened off the road Wednesday afternoon at Dewdney Flats, Sooke, and flipped over on its back, almost completely hidden in the roadside bushes.

Turner was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by RCMP, and his condition is reported "good" today.

The dog Punch is appealing for legal aid. He would like some kind lawyer to tell him whether or not he has grounds to sue radio station CKDA.

Punch feels that his current campaign for premier has been done irreparable harm by a broadcast the other night.

If there is a lawyer among the constituents, will he please consider these facts:

The program Cash Clues, the very same day on which Punch announced his caninedacy for premier, asked the listeners to identify a "Mystery Object" based on five clues.

★ ★ ★

"The object is animal; a humorus quadruped; the humor is biped inspired; some people don't think it's funny; a publicity hound, pure and simple; poor dog, he leads a man's life."

And announcer Don Wilson then stated the mystery object was none other than Punch.

Punch claims he has been held up to public ridicule, and that therefore, some voters will not take his campaign seriously.

I have suggested to Punch that he simply bite Wilson, but Punch says there is so much Wilson, he wouldn't know where to start.

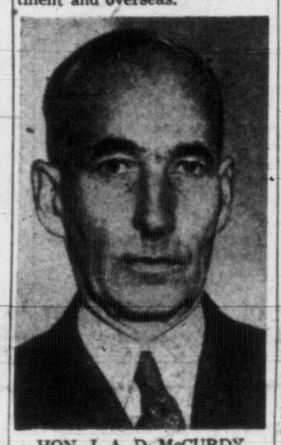
Air Industry Chiefs Chart Flight Future

Leaders in Canada's fast-growing civil aviation industry—most of them equally at home in the pilot's "office" or behind an executive desk—will meet in Victoria at the Empress Hotel Monday and Tuesday, to thresh out problems of the young but vastly important industry.

The spring convention of the Air Industries and Transport Association of Canada will bring together many men whose lives have spanned the growth of aviation in this nation, from the seat-of-the-pants bush-plane days to the giant jet transports flying the air routes of this continent and overseas.



HON. J. A. D. McCURDY . . . first to fly in Commonwealth.

All major aircraft and engine manufacturers and airline operators in Canada will be represented at the convention.

EARLY FLIER

One of the principal speakers will be the man who made the first flight in a heavier than air machine in the British Commonwealth. He is Hon. J. A. D. McCurdy, former lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, who lifted an aircraft from Canadian soil in 1909.

Gordon McGregor, president of Trans-Canada Air Lines will outline future plans of the government-owned line. Business sessions at the convention will be devoted to moves designed to encourage and stimulate the development of civil aviation.

Path Cleared For School Fund Transfer

The path appeared clear today for the transfer of $75,000 from one Greater Victoria School Board building account to another to meet its just debts.

Mayor Claude Harrison said he would recommend to City Council this afternoon that the city pass the necessary by-law permitting the transfer.

Oak Bay, like Esquimalt, cleared the way at a council meeting Wednesday night. Saanich is now expected to follow suit for both it and the city delayed putting by-laws for fear of legal entanglements.

"The attorney-general advised me today he had no objections to such a by-law," Mayor Harrison said, "consequently I will recommend it."

All municipalities must agree to a by-law before the transfer can be made and the school board can pay its bills.

The Oak Bay Junior High cost $75,000 more than estimated but the Central Junior High contract price is less than the estimates. The school board sought to transfer the required sum.

Victoria and Saanich councils both raised the question of legal pitfalls for the municipalities. Victoria refused to act until it got advice from provincial government authorities.

Liberal Chief Would End Government by Cabinet

Laing Would Return to Province Rule By Responsible Government

By GORDON FORBES, Times Political Reporter

An end to "cabinet government operated through top civil servants" was advocated in Victoria today by Arthur Laing, newly-elected Liberal leader.

He said B.C.'s big need is a "return to a complete sense of responsible government—something this province has not had for a decade."

Mr. Laing, arch foe of Coalition, said policies must be formed by a "meeting of minds in the elected representatives."

"It is the responsibility of the cabinet to administer the policies determined by the Legislature. There has not been too much of that in the past.

"B.C. has had cabinet governments operated through top civil servants.

"Where has the little MLA come into the picture over recent years—even before Premier Bennett's backbenchers were dissuaded from speaking in the Throne Speech debate?" asked the Liberal leader.

He said the people's wants will never be known if MLA's don't speak in debates in the Legislature.

"There has been a retreat from this concept, and it's not a good sign," Mr. Laing said.

The leader, asked if he'd enter a coalition with Progressive Conservatives if the outcome of the June 9 election gave no clear majority, said:

"I would not favor any official coalition at all."

He felt, though, party leaders could compromise so that the business of the province would carry on. Leaders would have to show a proper sense of responsibility, he said.

"The people don't want elections every year," he said.

The leader said he has found labor, industrial and business circles have grave concern about conditions in B.C.

"It's far more serious concern than I had thought earlier," he said.

Happy at Candidates' Calibre

Mr. Laing is happy about the calibre of candidates the Liberals have nominated to date.

"I know my limitations," he said. "Most of the tragedies in this world have been brought about by men who didn't know their limitations. I'm no Atlas carrying the world on my back. I need the best type of help available. Good candidates will provide that help."

The Liberal chieftain is disappointed about reports that federal Socreds will not participate in the coming campaign.

"They should come back," he said. "There are a few questions they should answer."

He referred to Rev. E. G. Hansell's statement that he (Hansell) doesn't believe in social security measures—that the finest social security is complete freedom of conscience and the will of the individual.

Mr. Laing said he'd like to question the Alberta MP on this statement.

Mr. Laing is encouraged by the enthusiasm shown in the party so far in the election. He said 450 persons turned out at a meeting in Chilliwack and 375 at a Delta meeting this week.

He plans to return to Ottawa at the end of the month to finish up business there, and start his campaign in B.C. the first week in May.

He attended the Rotary Club luncheon at noon today, will address the Laurier Club at 6.15 tonight and the Oak Bay Liberal Association nominating convention at 8.30 p.m. at Liberal headquarters, Government Street.

Realism was the watchword when St. John Ambulance workers prepared "casualties" for civil defense display at the Armories. Here Mrs. Don Munday, provincial superintendent, is patient while Mrs. E. J. Harewood, St. John area officer, makes wound more ghastly and Miss M. McLaren watches. (Times photo.)

NO SPOT FOR FINICKY

Grisly Props Ready For Defense Display

BY PETE LOUDON

Shreds of bloody skin, pieces of human arms with splinters of bone projecting and grey matter that could be dashed-out brains covered the table.

Weirdly out of place, grouped about this charnel-house scene were several kindly Victoria matrons, toying with the gore and chattering as women do, of fashions, children and recipes.

No witch's cauldron ever held a more gruesome collection of bits and pieces than those being prepared today by the St. John Ambulance workers here for the Civil Defense display in the Armory at 8.30 tonight.

Pleasant, unruffled Miss M. McLaren of Ottawa, Dominion superintendent of the group, wiped her hands on a red-smeared apron and commenced mixing up more "brains" in a china cup, while she explained the situation.

Realism in casualty station drills held under her supervision in civil defense displays across Canada has awakened many Canadians to the importance of CD activities as nothingg else has.

When the amateur actors who will be the patients are carried into the station tonight, writhing in simulated agony, screaming for morphine, beating their heads against the stretchers, you'll get the idea.

If the action doesn't shock you, the sight of the wounds will.

With aid of a plasticine-like material which can be built onto the skin so artfully it looks as if it grew there, terrible "wounds" can be inflicted.

The ladies have recipes for blood which will run and blood which can congeal, blood which is caked and dirty. They have hair to sprinkle over lacerations, glass to pierce the built-up limbs, bits of animal bones to tear out through the flesh.

Civil defense medical personnel will attend the cases as they appear at the pageant tonight. Other medical personnel and CD workers will watch from balcony seats. The public will be admitted to the main floor, are warned to come early . . . but not if finicky about a little blood splashing about.

Even with a limit 29-hand at cribbage, Mrs. E. C. Carter of Winnipeg, staying with her husband at Cathay Apartments, couldn't win. She lost the game by three pegs Wednesday night.

BCE Wage Dispute In Conciliation Officials' Hands

Deadlocked wage dispute between 3,000 street railwaymen and the B.C. Electric Company went before a conciliation board in Vancouver today.

About 300 Victoria bus drivers and bus maintenance men are involved in the negotiations.

The Street Railwaymen's Union (TLC) is seeking a 23-cent hourly pay increase over the present rate of $1.51. It would apply to transit workers in Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster.

Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane today gave consent to an out-of-court settlement between George W. Ludlow and C. H. Dash and William H. Dash, father and son, of 632 Dunedin Street.

Ludlow, under terms of the settlement, will pay $388.33 to complainants to compensate them for the loss of their motorcycle in an accident last Oct. 26. The bike, which was being driven at the time by Donald H. Reeves, was wrecked when involved in a collision with Ludlow's car.

Trustees Settle Claim of Parents For Boy's Injury

Greater Victoria School Board has agreed to pay $1,750 as an out-of-court settlement to Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Webb, 41 Cadillac Avenue, to compensate them for injuries received by their son, Kenneth, aged 10, when he fell down an uncovered well at Tolmie School last year.

The terms of settlement went before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in Supreme Court chambers this morning. He gave consent to the proposals, earlier agreed to by both sides.

Of the total figure offered by the school board, $1,000 will be paid into court as direct compensation for injuries received by the child; $500 to cover medical expenses; and $250 to provide for the Webbs' legal costs.

The Webb boy sustained a fractured skull when he fell into the schoolyard well last Feb. 1 while playing during a recess. He was in hospital 21 days but is now fully recovered.

Company Prepared To Back Concerts

British Columbia Electric Co. today offered to sponsor a series of seven Wednesday night concerts in Beacon Hill Park this summer.

Farm tractors give ploughing demonstration on Mitchell farm.

FARMER MICHELL TAKES IT EASY

Demonstrators Till His Acres Free

Willard Michell won't have much land preparing to do on his East Saanich farm this year because about $50,000 worth of new agricultural machines ploughed and dazed it Wednesday—for free.

The cultivating was done at a farm-tillage machinery field day to show farmers and gardeners the latest types of agricultural machinery on the market.

Large and small tractors with ploughs attached turned furrows of rich brown soil for the benefit of some 400 persons who attended the field day during the morning and afternoon. The tractors were supplied by city firms dealing in farm machinery.

There were also rototillers, rotovators and small garden machinery on exhibition.

The field day, sponsored by the South Saanich Farmers' Institute, is the second of its kind to be held in Saanich in three years.

J. J. Woods, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm, Saanichton, opened the field day. Officials from the provincial department of agriculture and Veterans' Land Act were present.

New Princess Purchased for Coast Service

The smallest Princess in the CPR's B.C. Coast service will be at work on the west coast of Vancouver Island in about three weeks.

CPR officials Wednesday confirmed reports that the company is purchasing Mv. Pomare, U.S.-built, Mexican-owned ship of 510 tons, 140 feet overall.

Pomare will be renamed Princess of Alberni, and put into service on completion of overhaul and installation of refrigeration space. Tenders for the work are being called from Victoria shipbuilding firms.

The little ship arrived in Victoria Tuesday, was pulled up on the marine railway at Victoria Machinery Depot, and passed survey by the CPR and Canadian government steamship inspectors.

Princess of Alberni will be licensed to carry 25 day passengers, and will have accommodation for six overnight travelers. She can carry 250 tons of cargo, and will have "ample" refrigeration space for West Coast needs, according to her new owners.

Eventually it is planned to base the ship at Port Alberni.

Embarrassed Wife Advised To Try Ridiculing 'Romeo'

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

There is nothing more ridiculous than a man fast approaching middle age who thinks he is a Romeo with the ladies. Nor is there anything more embarrassing for his wife, as the writer of the following letter indicates:

Hurlock

(Q) "I have been married for 11 years and have a five-year-old daughter. My problem is that I have many friends but can't hold on to them because of my husband. When he is in the presence of women, he paws them, speaks suggestively, and even on occasion has made propositions to them in my presence. Some of them like the attention and are very much flattered. Others are annoyed. I have talked to his family about the way he behaves and they have told him he should never have married if he wished to carry on like that. He usually tells me he is sorry when he sees how upset I am. Now I feel that I cannot go out with my friends because my husband behaves in such an embarrassing way. What would you advise?"

(A) Under no conditions should you give up your friends because of your husband's silly, adolescent behavior. If anyone is to pay the price for it, it should be he.

If he won't listen to reason, perhaps you could shame him into acting his age. Make fun of his flirting, in front of your friends.

Never, of course, let them know that this embarrasses you or that you are ashamed of your husband's behavior. Instead, develop of sense of humor about it, even to the point of calling him your "Romeo."

When he starts to flirt, jokingly say, "My husband has always loved the ladies. Isn't it too bad that we don't have harems in our country?" Some joking remarks of this sort will show your friends that you are not taking your husband's flirtations too seriously and that they have no reason to be embarrassed or angry when he starts to flirt with them.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Good grooming, like good health, is made up of constant attention to small details. You cannot be poorly groomed for weeks and then, suddenly, with a few swipes of make-up to hide rough skin or pimples, an extra coating of nail polish to hide dirty or brittle nails, a quick brushing of the hair to hide long time lack of hair care, some cleansing fluid to camouflage a collar which has been soiled for some time, look like someone who just stepped out of a bandbox. It just can't be done!

However, let us think today about the essentials of good grooming and that extra outside care which also brings you a bonus in good looks.

1. You simply have to take care of your nails and that means a weekly manicure, whether someone else does it for you or you give it to yourself. If your cuticle is brittle, a good cuticle cream or oil, applied at night, will be most helpful. If your nails are brittle or split, look to your calcium and vitamin D intake.

2. Your hair—do you keep it clean with shampoos, stimulated with brushing and scalp massage? Do you have it attractively arranged and either roll it up yourself or have it set often enough?

3. What about your skin? Do you cleanse it twice daily and remove your make-up at night? Do you also give a dry skin the benefit of daily lubrication and an oily one the bonus of four times daily cleansing with soap and water?

4. Your clothes — are your shoes polished and well cared for and your suits and dresses well pressed and cleaned? Are your white gloves sparkling or drab? Are your stocking seams straight?

5. Your make-up—is it applied carefully or just slung on?

6. Superfluous hair — have you gotten rid of it, by one method or another, from your legs and your arms? Have you removed the stray hairs from your eyebrows and any which may have lighted on your chin or between your brows?

Five Women's Clubs Make Plans for Joint Dinner Meeting and Discussion

Announcement was made at meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday evening of plans to hold a joint dinner meeting with four other Victoria women's clubs on April 27, in the clubroom, 904 Government Street, commencing at 6.15 p.m.

Invited to join with the B and PW Club on that evening are University Women's Club, Soroptimist Club, Quota Club and Toastmistress Club.

A program, arranged by civic interest group of B and PW, under chairmanship of Miss Verna Beek, will include a panel discussion of "Why Women Should Take an Active Interest in Affairs of Government."

The five clubs, sharing similar aims and objectives will be represented as follows: Mrs. V. Rayment, Toastmistress Club; Miss M. Robertson, Quota Club; Mrs. A. Pohl, Soroptimist Club; Mrs. S. B. Stewart, University Women's Club, and Mrs. Eileen Fitze, Business and Professional Women's Club.

Panel discussion will commence at 8 p.m., following dinner, and members of all five clubs may attend. Those wishing dinner reservations will telephone Mrs. M. Laughlin, E 2626, before April 22.

Mrs. Bessie Smith presided at Monday's meeting and it was announced that a total of $71.71 had been forwarded to national office to assist with flood relief.

Mrs. Betty Hawes was initiated as a new member.

Following business, Mrs. Mabel Curry, sales supervisor with a chain of dry cleaning establishments in the city, gave an interesting talk on basic principles and rules for dry cleaning, including the information that a garment passes through a minimum of 16 different hands and 16 different processes in the course of cleaning.

St. Ann's Spring Fete Opened By Mrs. Harrison

Pupils of grade eight, under direction of Sister Mary Clementina, sang a charming invitation to "Come to the Fair" yesterday afternoon at opening of St. Ann's Academy annual spring fete.

At the entrance to receive Mrs. Claude L. Harrison were Sister Mary Luca, Superior of the Academy, and Mrs. L. Rolland, president of Parents' Auxiliary. After being officially welcomed by Patricia Shreenan, president of the students' council, who told her that proceeds from festivities would assist the educational program, carried on for 95 years at St. Ann's. Mrs. Harrison received an iris and rose from Laurel St. John. She was presented with scissors to cut the ribbon to the entrance to the fete by Linda Tomezac.

Conveners of stalls were Mrs. H. Hartnell, parcel post; Mrs. L. Gill and Mrs. T. Mathers, home cooking; Mrs. G. McIlveney, lucky seven; Mrs. L. Pearce and Mrs. E. Duncan, candy; Mrs. A. E. Lowman, thrift shop. Penny carnival for children was under direction of Sister Damien Marie.

Mrs. V. Butler, with Mrs. J. Allison and Mrs. A. Johnson, was in charge of the tearoom which was decorated with daffodils. The tea table was covered with a white cut work and lace cloth and centred with pink carnations, phlox and iris and pale blue candles in silver holders. Serviteurs were Mesdames M. Johnson, C. Hinchcliffe, C. Galvin, D. Leahy, A. Simmons, L. McGhee, J. Warburton and A. St. John. During the evening Mrs. H. Fagan was in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. A. Smith was general convener for the fete which continued into the evening.

Flowers Flown From Bermuda For Wedding of Joan Shirley

May lilies flown from Bermuda, the bride's birthplace, formed the lovely theme for the wedding Wednesday night of Joan Meredith Shirley, daughter of Mrs. Eileen L. Shirley, Victoria, and the late Albert D. Shirley, and Aln Joseph Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, 124 Beechwood Avenue.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Archdeacon A. E. de L Nunns, in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. Wedding music played during the service by Mr. Gerry included "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and "O Perfect Love."

A floor-length gown of nylon net over satin was chosen by the bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Albert David Shirley. A lily-patterned lace redingote was worn over the gown and the finger-tip veil was of nylon net held in place by a ruched circlet of net encrusted with mother-of-pearl sequins.

She carried a prayer book adorned with gardenias and stephanotis.

Miss Margaret Colbourne was maid of honor, wearing pink net in a floor-length model, with small matching hat and carrying pink carnations. Miss Elenore Straith wore mauve net ballerina gown with matching hat, and Miss Sheila Olson, a similar gown in blue and matching hat. Both bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

Jack Thompson was his brother's best man and another brother, Stan Thompson, and Ken Kent, were ushers.

Masses of fragrant flowers decked the lounge at Oak Bay Beach Hotel, where a reception was held. The Bermuda lilies predominated and were complemented by white Spanish broom, wild currant and daffodils. Above the fireplace, before which the young couple stood, was an arrangement of narcissi and red tulips.

Assisting in receiving guests were Mrs. Shirley, wearing a three-quarter-length gown of misty lilac silk shantung with black accessories and corsage of gardenias, and Mrs. Thompson in a hand knit wool dress of dusky rose with brown accessories and roses en corsage.

On the bride's table, a two-tier cake was surmounted by a pair of doves holding a golden wedding ring. The cake was circled with pink Cecil Brunner rosebuds and flanked with tall white candles.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Fred Trickett, and to the maid of honor and bridesmaids, by Ken Kent, and was drunk in a punch made from an old Bermuda recipe.

Departing for a motoring honyemoon to Wyoming, the bride donned a light grey worsted suit and navy accessories.

Mrs. Thompson was educated at the Bermuda School for Girls, St. Margaret's School in Victoria and Oak Bay High School. Mr. Thompson is a graduate of Victoria High School and well known in local sporting circles, being a member of the Foul Bay lacrosse team.

They will make their future home in Victoria.

University Women Ask That Government Continue Control

At meeting of Victoria University Women's Club, Wednesday evening, a resolution was passed, to be sent to national federation, asking that in the interests of national culture and encouragement of Canadian artists and writers, the government be urged to maintain its present system whereby the CBC controls TV and broadcasting.

In proposing the resolution, Mrs. A. J. Butterfield referred to the Massey report which advised that the CBC keep control of TV outlets.

Mrs. T. B. Williams presided and announcement was made that Dr. Martha Law, Toronto, national president, would address members at the annual meeting and banquet on May 19.

Announcement was also made that Dr. Esther Wright, fourth national vice-president, who has been on a trip to the Far East, will meet members at the home of Dr. Olga Jardine on May 2.

Short sketches accompanied by slide illustrations, of four great modern architects were given during the evening. Mrs. C. D. Stockdill presented the slides and introduced the speakers, Miss Muriel Johnson, Mrs. K. L. Wright, Mrs. Pendray and Mrs. J. Flanagan, who gave commentaries.

Architects presented were Frank Lloyd Wright, originator of the low house with horizontal lines; Mies Van Der Rohe, a purist who aims at simplicity, perfection and orderliness; Le Corbusier, the French architect, who used steel in his designs and believed the modern home was a machine for living and Marcel Breure, whose main interest was space, form and love of materials.

Home Planning School Director Has Great Personality and Charm

BY OLGA BOWES

"The heart of the community is the home; and the heart of the home is the woman," is the creed on which Mrs. Alma Andrews bases the home-planning course which she conducts in cities and towns across Canada.

Wearing a most becoming hat, which was just made to draw compliments, and proudly admitting that her husband, Leland Andrews, always chooses them for her, Mrs. Andrews gave the impression of being the ideal person to tell others about home-planning, for she has the personality one associates with the true homemaker.

With a background of 30 years' experience in her field, she holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Manitoba, and did her initial study in decorating and home-planning in New York, her course including such subjects as china painting, rug and lamp shade making, and house cleaning.

Since then Mrs. Andrews has been in touch constantly with developments in the home planning field and recently attended a special course in "Color and Its Effect on Living," conducted in New York by a noted color psychologist. Among the many new ideas she brought with her from there, is that best home decorating colors are restful greens, blue greens, and some shades of blue; (red is a stimulating color and becomes difficult to live with) and that wall paper is enjoying a new lease on life.

ALMA ANDREWS

Mrs. Andrews feels that Canadian women do not need to be educated along the lines of home making, but they do need to have their thinking directed along more progressive chanels. In Victoria for three weeks to conduct her home planning school at a well-known department store, Mrs. Andrews enchants her classes with amusing stories, bits of verse (much of which she composes herself and should publish), and stresses the need for love and understanding as the basic foundation for home building. "A well-appointed room is not necessarily a home," she says, adding that each home must have a place for God.

The most important room in your home is the entrance hall, according to Mrs. Andrews, for it is in the front hall that the casual visitor gains that all-important first impression of the home.

BUYS CANADIAN

Another fact that is emphasized at the home planning school is "Buy Canadian." The director of the school feels that many products available to us are manufactured in Canada, but because of more successful advertising of foreign made goods our own products are like prophets in their own land. All furniture used at Mrs. Andrews' school in Victoria was manufactured in British Columbia.

Women are always wanting suggestions and the result of this demand is that this interesting woman, who makes her headquarters in Toronto, receives some 30 to 40 letters a day. And because she just "loves people with all her heart," she is always ready and willing to help.

Those who had the pleasure of meeting her during her stay in Victoria will not soon forget her.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Health Can Reflect Conflicts Of Elderly Parents, Children

Every physician is familiar with patients who have indigestion, headaches, or other ailments resulting from strains or conflicts with other people. The complaints are real enough, but are the result primarily of nervous and emotional factors rather than purely physical causes—psychosomatic medicine is the branch under which such conditions are now studied.

Among difficult relationships of human life are those which frequently exist between aging parents and their middle-aged children. With the remarkable extension of life which has occurred during this century, many more people are living longer, with the result that more and more elderly people are faced with the problem of getting along with their grown children and the other way round.

The problems in the relationship of grown people of different generations in the same family are complicated and are not easy to solve.

The rewards, however, of a successful and happy relationship between elderly parents and grown children are considerable, and the penalty for failure to develop them is often reflected in the health and happiness of the members of both generations.

The responsibility for working out the living conditions and many other details usually rests principally with the younger generation; though elderly people, likewise, if their health and mental condition warrants, should take some responsibility in this direction.

Because this problem is so important, and because it cannot be discussed in the detail which it deserves in brief form, I was particularly delighted to find a book on this subject which can be wholeheartedly recommended and which should aid a great many in the better solution of problems which they may have with their elderly parents and themselves.

CONSIDERS ALL PROBLEMS

This book (by Edith M. Stern and Mabel Ross, M.D., "You and Your Aging Parents," published by A. A. Wyn, Inc., New York) considers in detail such problems as whether parents and their grown children should live together or apart, what happens when one parent is left alone by death of the other, how to view remarriage of a parent, and attitudes to take and things to do when illness comes to one of the older generation.

This book should prove of inestimable value to those who carry the responsibility for aging parents. It may assist physicians not only in the care of elderly persons, but also in avoiding some of these so-called psychosomatic disorders referred to at the beginning of this column.

Keate Named B.C. Director Of News Body

TORONTO (CP) — Herve Major, news editor of Montreal La Presse, was elected Wednesday as honorary president of The Canadian Press for the ensuing year.

Mr. Major, who was president of the national news-gathering co-operative for 1950-52, was presented with a television set at the annual meeting of members. His election to the office of honorary president followed at the meeting of the incoming board of directors.

Roy H. Thomson, head of the Thomson newspaper group, was re-elected president. R. J. Rankin, Halifax Mail-Star, first vice-president, and D. B. Rogers, Regina Leader-Post, second vice-president, were also re-elected.

B.C. members of the board of directors elected at the annual meeting were Donald Cromie of the Vancouver Sun and Stuart Keate, Victoria Times.

Captain of Ship Which Sank Sub Taken to Hospital

ISTANBUL (Reuters) — The skipper of the Swedish freighter Naboland, which collided with a Turkish submarine April 3 has been sent to hospital for treatment of a nervous disorder.

The captain was imprisoned after the collision, which resulted in the deaths of 99 seamen from the submarine Dumlupinar. He disclaims any responsibility for the accident.

Uplands Residents Call New Homes Undesirable

The building of three relatively small houses in the Uplands district inspired a petition of protest to Oak Bay council Wednesday night.

The three "small houses" were described as located at the upper end of Rippon Road. . . . "Prime examples of undesirable and unsuitable dwellings for the area as a whole," they were called.

Described as coming from "M. S. Blaney and 22 others," the petition states that at a meeting of surrounding landowners it was decided that "an official or unofficial town planning commission" should be elected.

Oak Bay municipality already possesses an officail group of this nature.

The Uplands meeting said such a group is required to maintain the Uplands as ". . . a pleasant residential area and a famous tourist attraction". It was not stated how the three "small" houses offended.

MINIMUM SUGGESTED

Municipal by-laws were suggested that would set a minimum floor area of 2,000 square feet with basements of 1,000 square feet. Suggested minimum lot acreage is one-half acre. Frontage desired is half the distance of the depth and wiring should be underground.

Council referred the matter to the town planning commission.

Also discussed by council was the subject of underground wiring in the proposed new Hudson's Bay Company subdivision north of Lansdowne Road.

Estimated cost per lot of the unedrground light and telephone wiring was $1,165, termed "prohibitive" by Reeve P. A. Gibbs. Council concurred.

As the high cost was due to rock formation in the area, it was not indicated the general policy of underground wiring, where feasible in Oak Bay, would be repealed.

Anglican Bishop May Asked to Leave Iran

TEHRAN (AP) — The Church of England's bishop in Iran, William James Thompson, learned Wednesday he may be expelled from that country, where he has served for 38 years. He has already been barred from his church mission headquarters in Isfahan, since the anti-British government of Premier Mossadegh accused him of "suspicious activities."

37.5% of Jubilee Cases Emergency Admissions

Recent figures compiled at Jubilee Hospital indicate emergencies account for the greatest number of hospital admissions.

At the present time 37.5 per cent of all Jubilee admissions are emergency cases, 30.9 per cent are urgent cases and the remaining 31.6 per cent are brought into hospital for elective operations or treatment.

JORDAN RIVER—More than $50 was raised by the Golden Thought Club, a group of 17 Jordan River girls, at a recent "get together." Money will be used to provide uniforms for the membership.

DAYLIGHT SAVING STARTS APRIL 26

Travelers Told to Check Time

Season of travel-public confusion starts in B.C. Sunday, April 26. Daylight Saving Time begins then and will continue until Sept. 27.

George I. Warren, B.C. Automobile Club secretary, today warned travelers to check train, bus and ship schedules before starting out.

Lack of uniformity in daylight saving time across the continent can cause confusion, inconvenience and discomfort, Mr. Warren said.

"Hundreds of hotels throughout the nation," he added, "operate their dining rooms for the service of two or three meals a day on limited hours. Arrival too early will mean an irritating wait; arrival too late may result in going hungry until another place to eat is found.

"Curtain time for theatres, feature motion pictures, baseball games and the circus is often set, in many states and cities, on daylight saving time schedules. These often affect the vacationist, as do the timetables of railroads which are used by many holiday seekers."

The AAA club official said that planning and adjustment of schedules for traveling should always take into consideration the possibility that the major cities through which the traveler passes, and his objective, may or may not be affected by daylight saving time.

South's decision to bid a slam in today's hand was reasonable enough. It was a cinch that North had the king of diamonds and a high heart for his response of two no-trump. Very little else was needed to give South a reasonable play for his slam.

When West opened a low club South indulged in the luxury of a moment's thought. Since there was no particular advantage in risking a club finesse, South counted on winning only two top clubs. He knew he could eventually take four diamonds, together with one spade, as a result of which he needed five trump tricks to make his contract.

The easiest way to make a total of five trump tricks was to win three high trumps in one hand and two ruffing tricks in the other hand. There was no way to get ruffing tricks in the dummy without developing the spades, but it was easy to get ruffing tricks in the South hand without any risk at all.

After winning the first trick in dummy with the king of clubs, declarer promptly cashed the ace of clubs and ruffed a low club with the king of hearts. He next led a low heart to dummy's seven. East refused the trick, hoping that South would continue with a second round of trumps.

East would then be able to take the ace of hearts and lead a third trump to deprive the South hand of further ruffs.

South easily evaded this trap by abandoning trumps temporarily. Instead, he led dummy's last club and ruffed in his own hand with the jack of hearts. Now it was safe to lead a second trump from the South hand. Dummy played the ten, and East could gain nothing by withholding his ace.

East returned a spade, but there was no need for South to risk the finesse. The contract was home without a second spade trick. South put up the ace of spades, and entered dummy with the king of diamonds in order to discard two spades on dummy's remaining trumps.

Since South had already discarded one spade on the ace of clubs he could now claim the rest of the tricks with high diamonds.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

By RAY SIDAWAY

Marlene Dietrich, as the glamorous Diane La Volta, helps the British Intelligence Service throw a smoke screen around a vital atomic project in "Flight to Nowhere," on "Time for Love," heard on KIRO at 6 tonight. The drama, by Max Colpet and Jerry Adelman, is based on a real-life episode.

Violin virtuoso Joe Venutti and Hawaiian singing star George Kainapau and the Island Serenaders guest with Bing Crosby tonight on KIRO at 6.30. Venutti will be heard in his version of "How High the Moon," while Kainapau and the Serenaders will do "Hawaiian Wedding Song" with Bing.

Jim Anderson (Robert Young) learns that plans for a simple business trip can become most confusing when the whole Anderson household decides to go with him on tonight's edition of "Father Knows Best" on KOMO at 9.

Papa Anderson finds his original business purpose is lost when each member of the family makes individual plans for the trip. Then, at the last minute, the Anderson brood refuses to go—but by this time Jim has missed his train. However, a phone call from a business associate saves the day and all is forgiven.

A reporter's heroism in joining a fire-fighting crew while on assignment to cover the disaster will be dramatized on "Big Story" tonight at 7 on KOMO.

C. J. Hansen of the Helena Independent Record got his big story as one of the front-line fire-fighters in the Gates of the Mountain forest fire which took 13 lives and destroyed almost 6,000 acres of timberland.

John Avison conducts the CBC Vancouver concert orchestra tonight in the overture to "The Barber of Seville," on CBU at 9.

TONIGHT'S HIGHLIGHTS: Drama—"Vancouver Theatre" will present "The Signal" on CBU at 9.30. . . . Talks—Sir Robert Watson-Watt, inventor of radar, will talk about his invention on CBU at 8.45. . . . Music—Dalton Baker directs the choir in familiar hymns on "Eventide," on CBU at 7.30.

AN AGE OF GREATNESS — No. 88—Squabbling Heroes

Off the Irish coast the hungry sea had taken final toll of what was left of Spain's invincible Armada. The few survivors who reached shore were either butchered by the villagers or sent, haltered in pairs like beasts, from village to village on their way to England. The fact that the Irish were Roman Catholics, too, availed them nothing. And those who did reach England must have wondered at the Englishmen they saw rotting and dying in the streets of English ports! These had been their courageous adversaries, now dying in thousands of ship fever, neglected once the danger was over. Those who did survive were mutinous since, after eight months at sea, they had not been paid. The men scowled and the heroes—Drake, Howard, Hawkins, Frobisher—wrangled and quarrelled in the language of the forecastle. Drake had secured loot and would not share it. They bickered aboard ships so undermanned that if the Armada had returned there would not have been enough sailors to put to sea.

SELL OR TRADE FOR MODERN APARTment, modern self-serve market. Close-in location. Growing district. Stucco building, with nice living quarters; parking lot. Fully equipped. Turnover around $100,000. Price $23,000 plus stock. Some terms. Box 128, Victoria Press.

NEW FOUR - SUITE APARTMENT, $29,500, Terms. Owner. Box 1987, Victoria Press.

OUTSTANDING OPPORTUNITY
The following all included in one price:
(1) Approximately 800 feet of waterfront with sandy beach, very warm swimming and excellent fishing.
(2) Approximately 27 acres of well treed land with highway frontage.
(3) Main house has beautiful living room 30x20, dining room, five bedrooms, modern electric kitchen, two bathrooms, hot-water oil heat, double garage, all in excellent condition. Would make an outstanding lodge.
(4) New house of four rooms. Fully modern.
(5) Well-known coffee shop, restaurant and drive-in housed in a new, beautiful, architect-designed building fully equipped with the most modern food dispensing equipment. Equipment alone cost over $10,000. Building and equipment cost the owner $35,000 and could be easily rented for $200 per month if the purchaser did not wish to operate it himself. This business is well removed from the homes on the property and would not in any way distract from the waterfront property. The rental of the restaurant and four-room home would bring a yearly revenue of at least $3,000 per year at the same time give the purchasers the main house for their own gracious living.

All this situated in one of the most popular resort areas on Vancouver Island.
REALLY AN OUTSTANDING OPPORTUNITY
FULL PRICE FOR EVERYTHING $85,000
(Without the restaurant, price $57,500)

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Re: St. Joseph's Hospital

Sealed Tenders will be received by the undersigned for demolition of the temporary hospital buildings around the above Hospital, and marked "Tender for Demolition of Temporary Buildings" up until 12.00 o'clock noon of the 30th day of April, 1953.

Tenderers will be shown the buildings by Mr. Kelpin of the Maintenance Department of the Hospital.

All plumbing fixtures, radiators, linoleum and other items will be taken out by the Hospital and retained by them.

The Contractor shall take down the whole of the buildings, foundations, etc., completely off the site; clear away all rubbish, and leave the site all neat and clean to the satisfaction of the undersigned.

He shall give any notices to local authorities, pay any fees, and comply with all regulations of the Workmen's Compensation Board and City By-laws.

All drains shall be properly cut off and plugged up, as well as water, light, and power services, to the entire satisfaction of the undersigned.

All material taken down to become the property of the Contractor.

All of the above to be completed within one calendar month from date of acceptance of tender.

Contracts to provide Surety Bond of $25,000 - $50,000 against all accidents to his own staff, or any person or persons on or adjacent to the site and leave St. Joseph's Hospital free from any claims whatsoever.

Contractor shall submit marked cheque on a chartered bank of Canada to the amount of his tender, made payable to "St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria." Those of unsuccessful tenderers will be returned as early as possible.

Poland Drops Soviet Peace-Pact Proposal

UN Answering Reds Request for Resumption Of Truce Talks as First PWs Arrive Kaesong

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet bloc, speaking through Poland, today withdrew its catch-all peace package which has been strongly opposed by the West.

The Polish foreign minister, Stanislaw Skrzeszewski, told the UN's 60-country political committee he was dropping completely the sections of his plan calling for an immediate cease-fire in Korea and would not press for a vote on other sections at this assembly session.

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—The United Nations command will tell the Communists Friday whether it is ready to resume the long-stalled Korean armistice negotiations—and it is expected to say "yes."

The UN late tonight asked for a meeting to deliver a letter answering repeated Red requests to get the talks under way again.

Negotiations were indefinitely suspended by the UN last October 8.

The requests came only a few hours after the first group of Allied sick and wounded from north Korean stockades arrived at Kaesong—just six miles from freedom.

It's the voter's responsibility to see that his name is on the voters' list this year. No house-to-house canvass will be made.

Instead, full-time registration centres have been set up mostly in business establishments throughout B.C.

In Greater Victoria 50 centres opened today and will operate from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. where possible, and 9 a.m. to the end of the regular store hours in other places. They will operate until April 27.

These centres will register persons who were not on the list last year, or have changed their addresses since then. Persons already on the list will be sent postcards notifying them they are qualified to vote. Registration on the federal or municipal list does not mean a person's name is on the provincia list.

Addresses of registration centres have been published in newspaper advertisements.

British Columbians again this year will have to wait three weeks after election day before final results are known—that is counting of second, third and subsequent choice votes.

No change has been made in the Elections Act to shorten the waiting period, originally designed to allow time for absentee ballots to be returned to home ridings.

Victoria Tories have sent throughout B.C. 50,000 pamphlets attacking Social Credit monetary theories.

The action was taken after Oak Bay Socreds allegedly refused to allow Robert Patch, president of the Victoria PC Association to read the statement at a recent meeting.

Assistant City Clerk Percy Wright, recently nominated Socred candidate for Victoria is having telephone trouble.

"While I do appreciate all the calls, this is a city telephone," he grinned at his City Hall office today. "I really want to be a good civic employee."

Foot of Snow Greets Weary Manitobans

WINNIPEG, Man. (BUP) — A foot of snow greeted Manitobans this April day as they got up to go to work.

A freak spring blizzard dumped eight inches of snow on this capital Wednesday, abated during the supper hour, then unloaded another four inches before it stopped at 2 a.m.

It was cold, too. Thirty-mile-an-hour winds, gusting up to 40, sent the mercury down to 15 above at dawn—20 degrees below the seasonal normal.

The blizzard reduced visibility to zero on city streets Wednesday night and traffic was all but halted.

King Winter continued to play tag with spring all across the west.

For the fifth consecutive day the low temperature set records at main centres in Alberta Wednesday. It was 22 at Edmonton where the previous record was 25 set in 1896. Calgary's 25 degrees outstripped a 1901 record, Medicine Hat equalled its 1940 record of 37 and Saskatoon's high of 20 was 12 degrees lower than the 1920 record.

14 Die, 30 Hurt As Blast Rocks Chicago Factory

CHICAGO (BUP)—Police report that 14 persons were killed in an explosion which rocked a four-story factory on Chicago's north side. Reports said that 30 persons were injured.

Four bodies had been recovered.

Crash Kills 27

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—A two-engine transport plane crashed and burned on the bank of the Red River near here today, killing 27 persons. The left engine on the Dakota, owned by the Aigle-Azur Company, caught fire soon after the takeoff.

The plane was on an airlift flight from Hanoi to the beleaguered French strong point of Na San.

EISENHOWER SPEECH

"The worst to be feared and the best to be expected can be simply stated," he said. "The worst is atomic war. The best would be . . . a life of perpetual fear and tension, a burden of arms draining the wealth and labor of all peoples; a wasting of strength that defies the American system or the Soviet system or any system to achieve true abundance and happiness for the peoples of this earth."

He said, "Recent statements and gestures of Soviet leaders give some evidence that they may recognize" the perils of continuing on the present road.

Will the new Soviet leaders grasp the "precious opportunity . . . to help turn the tide of history?" he asked.

"We do not yet know."

The least this country can do, Mr. Eisenhower said, is to make plain at this time its readiness to meet Russia half way in negotiating "a peace that is neither partial nor punitive."

"If we strive but fail, and the world remains armed against itself, it at least need be divided no longer in its clear knowledge of who has condemned humankind to this fate."

Mr. Eisenhower said the United States would "welcome" effective world disarmament, but made clear that any serious negotiations in this field must come after, not before, a general settlement of cold war issues in Europe and Asia.

His five-point disarmament plan called for these steps:

1. A ceiling on each nation's total armed forces, either in numbers or in the form of a ratio to other countries' strength.

2. A limitation on the proportion of industrial output that each country could devote to arms production.

3. International control of atomic energy for peaceful purposes and "prohibition of atomic weapons".

4. "A limitation or prohibition on other weapons of great destructiveness."

5. Enforcement of the pact "by adequate safeguards, including a practical system of inspection under the United Nations."

He backed up his disarmament plea with graphic details of what the present arms race is costing the world.

"Every gun that is made, every warship launched, every rocket fired signifies — in the final sense — a theft from those who hunger and are not fed, those who are cold and are not clothed.

"This world in arms is not spending money alone. It is spending the sweat of its laborers, the genius of its scientists, the hopes of its children."

Newspapers Said Better Advertising Than Radio

VANCOUVER (CP) — As an advertising medium, newspapers have the jump on radio stations, in the opinion of Vancouver's official traffic commission.

"There's no doubt about it," said traffic superintendent Gordon Ambrose, "newspapers have a much greater audience than the radio stations."

Ambrose said the commission is "not getting to the people" with its two radio programs.

His comments were made Wednesday as the commission discussed ways and means of getting word of traffic enforcement changes before the public

COMMENTS:

CLUES ACROSS

7. NINE is best. She is certainly unlikely to have nine dresses. She may well have one or two dresses which by her humble standards are very NICE.
8. MAKE is best. It applies to ALL businesses. TAKE is really only apt in businesses where money is handed over as in stores, etc.
10. WILL is best. Whether or not a WALL is easy to break down depends more on the equipment available than on whether the wall is particularly strong or not.
12. LEADING is best. In cards is a good example or in various other ways. LEAVING is too vague. Leaving home for the office or a trip hardly calls for "careful" thought. In leaving a business or job you would refer to it as "resigning" or "quitting." LEAPING is not favored.
14. NATIONS is best. Conflict between nations can certainly cause bitterness. Conflicting NOTIONS will easily cause arguments but it would be intolerance rather than the NOTIONS that would cause bitterness to arise.
18. GRASS is preferred since old BRASS is often much admired. Furthermore brass that is to be shined will look just as bad after a very SHORT time.
21. FIR is best. The word FIG alone is not the name of a tree. The word FIR alone is.

CLUES DOWN

4. RELENT is best. Since nobody can feel true sorrow for his misdeeds at will you cannot "persuade" anybody to REPENT. You might well persuade a man to RELENT.
16. CRIME is best. Because of CRIME the BUILDINGS may need cleaning but not the town. The expression "cleaning up the town" suggests CRIME.
17. AIR is best. A FIR can be lovely anywhere but AIR is certainly more lovely up in the mountains than in the city for example.
19. SWIM is best. A woman slims because she is too fat; thus to SLIM MUST improve the figure. To swim is excellent exercise and can help in many cases to improve the figure.
20. POSE is best. Since we are concerned with appearance POSE—as for a photograph—is very apt. If you smile when you LOSE it is because you are a good loser rather than because it makes you look better.
21. FOAL is best. Being easily led is not a typical characteristic of a POOL. Many intelligent people are quite tractable and many a FOOL is not.

Faminow to Speak For City Jaycees

A public speaking contest at a Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday night was won by Peter Faminow. He defeated runner-up, Lloyd Templeton.

Mr. Faminow will be the city champion at the Jaycee regional convention oratory contest in North Vancouver, May 21. Winner will try for national award at Dominion convention, Muskoka Lake, Ontario, June 14.

Each speaker gave a 20-minute prepared speech, followed with a three-minute impromptu address.

Judges were Tom Sturgess of the Capital City Speakers' Group, and Harold McGregor and Arthur Ousman, both of the Toastmasters' Club here.

First test flights over the north pole route between Scandinavia and California were made in November, 1952.

Diefenbaker May Run In New Constituency

BY VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA — John Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) is expected to seek Progressive Conservative nomination in Prince Albert according to unconfirmed reports circulating in party circles here Tuesday.

Mr Diefenbaker's reaction to the report was "No comment." However, he indicated he would have an announcement to make shortly. The well-known Progressive Conservative member, the only member of his party to sit in this parliament from Saskatchewan, now represents Lake Centre constituency. But under redistrbution Lake Centre has been combined with Moose Jaw constituency to form the new riding of Moose Jaw-Lake Centre.

There has been speculation that Mr. Diefenbaker would decide to withdraw from Moose Jaw-Lake Centre rather than take the chance of knocking another opposition member out of the House. Ross Thatcher, prominent CCF member, sits in parliament for Moose Jaw. The sitting member for Prince Albert is a Liberal, Francis Helme.

There have been suggestions that Mr. Diefenbaker might agree to accept an invitation to seek the nomination in Qu'Appelle now represented by Austin Dewar, a Liberal. However, Progressive Conservative sources here are now openly declaring that Mr. Diefenbaker has about decided to let his name go before a nomination convention in Prince Albert.

Ald. Percy B. Scurrah will leave Victoria next Monday to represent the city at a health congress in Hastings, England, April 28 to May 1.

Organized by the United Kingdom Royal Sanitary Institute, the congress will be attended by delegates from nearly 40 countries.

The alderman will also be Victoria's official representative at Queen Elizabeth's Coronation June 2. City Council asked him to represent the city when it learned he would be in England and France on private business during the period.

Disease-Injected Rabbits Taken By Youngsters

LONDON (AP) — Seven cuddly—but potentially dangerous—rabbits stolen from a research laboratory two days ago were found Wednesday hidden under a pile of debris in another part of the laboratory building.

Police, who had been scouring the district in a top-priority rabbit hunt, did not say how the animals were stolen or who the culprits were. Later they hauled two scared kids off to the police station—primarily for a stiff medical check-up.

For the rabbits had been injected with a contagious disease by scientists studying venereal diseases at the laboratory.

Hamilton Mother Faces Murder Charge

HAMILTON (CP)—Mrs. Roy Nield, 38, today was charged with murder in the strangling of her six-month-old daughter, whose body was found late Wednesday in a trunk in the basement of her home.

The child's body was found by police, who hunted for her for five hours in the belief she had been kidnapped.

81 Rescued From Burning Freighter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—All 81 crew members of a burning British freighter were forced to take to lifeboats in the Pacific today and later were saved by an American vessel that responded to an SOS.

Attempts were being made to save the British vessel, Menestheus, which was carrying a general cargo from the east coast to the Orient.

Monty Sees No Danger From Siberia

OTTAWA (CP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery said today he can't see any major threat to the North American continent from Siberia.

"The North Pole is pretty low in the category of danger areas," he told a press conference.

The deputy commander of Atlantic Pact powers in Europe added: "Don't run about like a lot of wet hens worrying about the odd atom bomb."

IKE CHALLENGES REDS TO PROVE PEACE TALK

Demands Specific Moves by Russians

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower challenged Russia's new leaders today to prove their will for peace by ending the Korean war, lifting the Iron Curtain from satellite countries and joining a world disarmament pact that would outlaw atomic weapons.

He seized the diplomatic initiative from the Communists in a major foreign policy speech listing specific "deeds" the Russians can perform to demonstrate the sincerity of their recent peace talk.

He said the death of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin has given his Kremlin successors "a precious chance to turn the black tide of events" sweeping the world toward atomic war, but warned that "we do not yet know" whether they mean to do it.

Mr. Eisenhower interrupted his golfing vacation at Augusta, Ga., and flew here to deliver the 3,500-word address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He planned to return to Augusta late this afternoon.

President Eisenhower's talk on foreign policy and international affairs today will be rebroadcast on CBC's trans-Canada network from 5 to 5.30 this afternoon.

Diplomatic circles hailed the speech as a "momentous" declaration of the new administration's readiness to negotiate a just cold war settlement with Russia.

The main points of the broad U.S. policy he sketched were:

1. This country is ready to enter into a five-point world disarmament treaty providing for an outright ban on atomic weapons, definite limitations on the size of each nation's armed forces, and "a practical system of inspection under the United Nations" to enforce the rules.

2. If disarmament can be achieved, the United States will join other countries in setting up a "fund for world aid and reconstruction" out of billions saved on military preparations.

3. "The first great step" toward a general world settlement "must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea." This should be followed immediately by "political discussions leading to the holding of free elections in a united Korea."

4. A Korean truce "would be a fraud" unless the Communists simultaneously call off their aggressions against Indo-China and Malaya. The Soviet attitude on this question will show whether the Communists seek "merely an expedient truce in Korea" or "genuine peace in Asia."

5. Russia can demonstrate good faith in Europe by (a) freeing Communist satellite countries to choose "their own forms of government"; (b) releasing "thousands of prisoners still held from the Second World War"; and (c) agreeing to an Austrian peace treaty without further delay.

6. The United States is willing to work for a "united Germany, with a government based on free and secret elections." But the German problem cannot be separated from the broader question of lifting the Iron Curtain throughout Europe to open the way for "free movement of persons, of trade and of ideas.

Mr. Eisenhower said the whole world will be waiting to hear Russia's answer to these challenges, and asked that "whatever the answer be, let it be plainly spoken."

"The auger for peace is too great, the hour in history too late, for any government to mock men's hopes with mere words and promises and gestures," he said.

"The test of truth is simple. There can be no persuasion but by deeds."

He was cautiously hopeful that Russia may now be ready for peaceful deeds.

"A new leadership has assumed power in the Soviet

Malan Doubles Majority in Sweeping Win

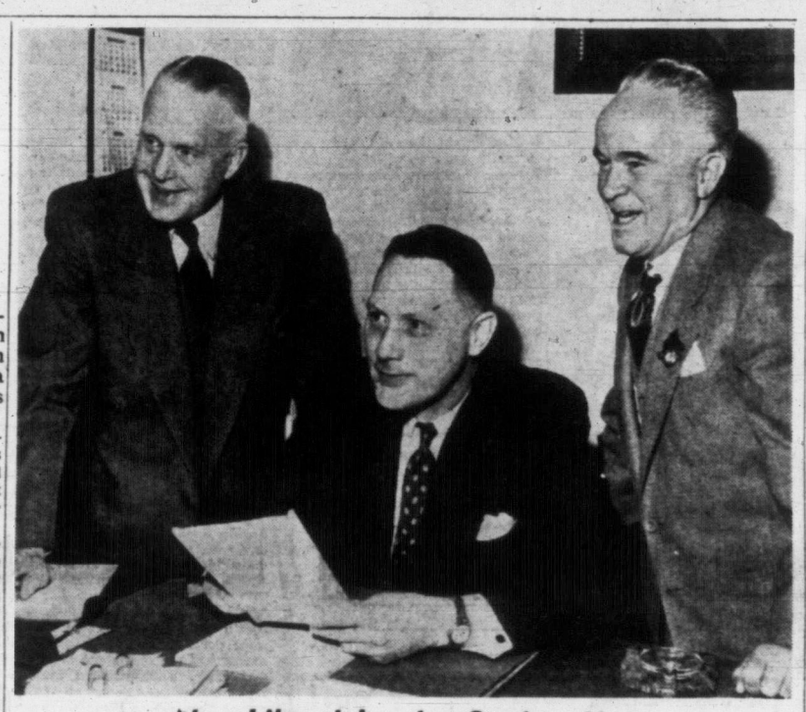
Still Gaining In Late Returns

PRETORIA (AP)—Prime Minister Daniel Malan has won the South African election with possibly a doubled majority for his party in Parliament.

Leading newspapers in opposition to the prime minister's racial policies conceded he had won Tuesday's polling. Tonight Malan was forging still farther ahead.

At that time returns gave his Nationalists 54 seats, the United party 49 and the Labor party four. There were 48 results outstanding, and 39 of these are in Nationalist strongholds.

Victory in those would give Malan's men a majority about twice the 13-seat edge they had in the last assembly of the 159-member House. The 159 members include three sitting representatives of negroes and there is one by-election pending.



New Liberal Leader Confers Here

Liberal election planning slid into high gear today with the arrival in Victoria of Arthur Laing, new leader of the party. Mr. Laing (seated) reported to Jack Maltman, Liberal organizer (left), and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Victoria MLA, that mayors of Vancouver and New Westminster may be Liberal candidates in the coming election. "We are hopeful Mayor Fred Hume and Mayor Toby Jackson will both run," he said. Mr. Laing will address the Laurier Club at the Monterey Restaurant tonight. (See Page 13.) (Times photo.)

23-Year-Old Soldier Killed In Saanich

Three Injured as Truck Overturns; Third Fatality of Year Here

A 23-year-old soldier became Saanich's third fatal traffic accident victim of 1953 early today when an army truck in which he was riding careened off a road in the Gordon Head district.

Dead is Gnr. Archibald Milford Cowan of Elkhorn, Man.

Taken to HMCS Naden Hospital with a fractured arm and facial cuts was L-Bdr. Ronald Brisebois, a passenger. His home town is Montreal.

Gunner D. K. Vannatter, Toronto, identified by Saanich police as the driver of the truck, and Gunner Ross Stinson, Barrie, Ont., passenger, suffered minor injuries and a shaking up. They, too, were taken to Naden hospital.

They are members of 129 Battery, RCA, at Gordon Head.

The accident occurred at about 4.15 a.m. at the intersection of Gordon Head Road and Ruby Road. Noise of the crash awakened nearby residents.

The dead soldier's body was pinned under the truck, the upper part of his body crushed by the tailgate's edge.

A Victoria Auto Wrecker's truck was called to hoist the truck before the soldier's body could be removed.

Sgt. Jack Hamilton and Constable Fred Post of Saanich police said that the truck had been traveling north on Gordon Head Road when it went off the left side of the highway, hit a telephone pole guy wire, bounced off the pole into a ditch and turned over.

Brisebois and Stinson both were thrown clear of the careening vehicle. Police had considerable trouble extricating Vannatter from behind the wheel.

Dr. R. Spicer and Dr. E. L. McNiven attended. The victim was pronounced dead at the scene.

The body is at Sands Mortuary, where an inquest will be held Monday morning at 10.

Vancouver Stocks Closing Prices

Sylvan Consolidated gained three cents on active trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Closing quotation this afternoon was 52.

Home Oil continued to recover ground it lost earlier in the week, advancing another 25 cents to $9.

2 Victorians Win Matches In Golf Play

Painter, McColl Reach Semifinals

The possibility of an all-Victoria final in the men's section of the 23rd annual Empress golf tournament loomed even stronger today at the end of the quarter-finals at Victoria Golf Club.

Vic Painter and Bill McColl both won their matches today to reach Friday's semifinals.

Painter, firing a two-under-par 33 on the front nine and holding his advantage in the back nine, defeated Paul Glaser of Seattle, 1 up.

McColl, uncorking three pars and a birdie on the last four holes, scored a 1-up victory over R. S. Osgood of Los Angeles to reach the fours.

The other two semifinalists are J. W. Kendall of Portland, who defeated fellow townsman R. Clark 2 and 1, and C. M. Royal of Seattle, who won by default from E. Rapp of Vancouver, Wash.

Wet and windy weather slowed play down today and no scores from the women's quarter-finals were available at press time.

Mass Arrests of Douks Contemplated by A-G

The provincial government, apparently adopting a "get tough" policy with law-breaking Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, is preparing facilities to cope with mass arrests in the Kootenay country.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, just returned from the trouble spot, said today an "increasingly firm attitude" will be taken by provincial authorities towards the hard core Freedomites regarding taxation and school attendance.

The attorney-general said the government is prepared to cope with the expected initial reaction to this policy, which probably will be mass nude parading and demonstrations leading to wide-scale arrests and imprisonment. (See story page 2).

Facilities are now under construction, and more are contemplated, to house those taken in mass arrests, he said.

"Regarding all recent incidents, it should be clearly recognized that arrests have not taken place only for want of evidence.

"This government is prepared to treat any member of the Freedomite sect against whom it has evidence of lawlessness in the same fashion as any other resident of this province is treated."

The attorney-general said despite heavy concentrations of RCMP in the area, and virtually all the bloodhounds available, no evidence has been obtained which would lead to conviction of any of the arsonists.

He said all evidence suggested that the fires were being set by the Sons of Freedom within their own communities and in some cases by the home owners themselves.

OUTLOOK FOR THE FOREST INDUSTRY

Market Good if B.C. Can Meet Competition

This is the second in a series of three background articles on the current wage talks in B.C.'s logging industry.

By DON INGHAM
Times Staff Reporter

A substantial market—not excellent, but good—is waiting for B.C. lumber and wood products if lumber, pulp and plywood mills can meet competition in the world market.

Marketing conditions for goods produced by the timber industry, which contributes 54 cents to every dollar of the province's income, are being examined closely by all concerned in the industry in view of the opening this week of negotiations between operators and the International Woodworkers of America (CCL), bargaining agent for 32,000 loggers and sawmill workers.

The United States, which last year took 2,243,000,000 feet of lumber from the province, gives every indication of buying as much, if not more, in 1953.

Comparatively low water freight rates allow B.C. shippers to compete in the big eastern U.S. construction market, which likely will be expanded this year by about 3 per cent. To date, though, there are no signs of unusual buying activity south of the border.

Unknown quantity in the list of leading world buyers is the United Kingdom, which bought 772,000,000 feet of B.C. lumber in 1952, roughly one-third that shipped to the United States.

The United Kingdom prefers B.C. wood, but is not averse to buying elsewhere if a good bargain can be made, and it's hamstrung by a dollar shortage.

However, the reality of scarce log supplies lies behind a bit of bluffing and jockeying being indulged in by Sweden and Finland, which last year filled two-thirds of Britain's needs.

Russia's activity in the export market seems to be more because it is the "thing to do" rather than from a sincere en-

A 23-year-old soldier became Saanich's third fatal traffic accident victim of 1953 early today when an army truck in which he was riding careened off a road in the Gordon Head district.

Dead is a Gordon Head soldier from Manitoba whose name is being withheld until confirmation is received that next-of-kin have been notified.

Taken to HMCS Naden Hospital with a fractured arm and facial cuts was L-Bdr. Ronald Brisebois, a passenger. His home town is Montreal.

PINNED BY TAIL-GATE

The dead soldier's body was pinned under the truck, the upper part of his body crushed by the tailgate's edge.

A Victoria Auto Wrecker's truck was called to hoist the truck before the soldier's body could be removed.

Sgt. Jack Hamilton and Constable Fred Post of Saanich police said that the truck had been traveling north on Gordon Head Road when it went off the left side of the highway, hit a telephone pole guy wire, bounced off the pole into a ditch and turned over.

The body is at Sands Mortuary, where an inquest will be held Monday morning at 10.

Political Pot

B.C. Social Credit League's membership drive is averaging 150 new members a day, Percy Hawkins, Vancouver Island Socred organizer, said today.

The last three days, he said, have been exceptionally good as the mainland reported 800, 700 and 750 new members daily.

In the same three days on the Island, Mr. Hawkins claimed, 200 new members have been signed up daily.

"Those were very good days," admits the organizer. "About 150 a day is average."

He said the big upswing came after the Socred government's defeat on the floor of the legislature.

The Island objective is 20,000 new members before election day. Mr. Hawkins would not release figures, but said the drive is "progressing favorably."

He estimates Socred membership has increased 600 per cent since the last election.

"We didn't elect a member on the Island last June," said the organizer. "This time we feel it will be a different story."

In Victoria alone, the party has organized 80 Social Credit groups, each with their own president, vice-president and secretary. The entire city has been carved into sections for organizing purposes.

Progressive Conservative Leader Deane Finlayson, who is seeking election in Oak Bay, has taken up residence at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. His home is Nanaimo.

B.C. Socreds will not ask for Alberta aid in the form of speakers during the coming election campaign, a Socred official said today.

"There will be no request for outside help," he said. "We feel there is plenty of ability among our own ranks."

Last year some Alberta cabinet ministers and Premier E. C. Manning participated in the campaign.

The empty corridors of abandoned, old Oak Bay High School will experience one more noisy, apprehensive June.

The traditional testing period won't be suffered by students this time, however. Oak Bay Socreds will have committee rooms there until a week after the June 9 election.

As Oak Bay Council granted permission for rental at Wednesday's council meeting, Clr. Patrick Birley drew attention to the fact the district returning officer will also make headquarters in the school.

"Is there anything sinister in this?" he quipped.

Malan Doubles Majority in Sweeping Win

Still Gaining In Late Returns

PRETORIA (AP) — Prime Minister Daniel Malan has won the South African election with possibly a doubled majority for his party in Parliament.

Leading newspapers in opposition to the prime minister's racial policies conceded he had won Tuesday's polling. Tonight Malan was forging still farther ahead.

At that time returns gave his Nationalists 54 seats, the United party 49 and the Labor party four. There were 48 results outstanding, and 39 of these are in Nationalist strongholds.

Victory in those would give Malan's men a majority about twice the 13-seat edge they had in the last assembly of the 159-member House. The 159 members include three sitting representatives of negroes and there is one by-election pending.

IWA Contract Negotiations Start Today

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Wage negotiations between the CIO International Woodworkers of America Union and forest industrial relations for a 1953 contract with some 160 coast lumber and logging operators open in Vancouver today.

The union, with international secretary Carl Winn of Portland, Ore., heading the seven-man bargaining group, has said it will ask for a 15-cent-an-hour wage increase and six other points. Operators have not yet indicated what stand they will take.

The companies and union failed to agree on terms last year and a 45-day strike resulted.

In addition to the general wage increase, the union was expected to ask for six additional paid statutory holidays, travel time for loggers and lumber workers, union shop security and incorporation of the present cost-of-living bonus into the basic wage.

New Liberal Leader Confers Here

Liberal election planning slid into high gear today with the arrival in Victoria of Arthur Laing, new leader of the party. Mr. Laing (seated) reported to Jack Maltman, Liberal organizer (left), and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot, Victoria MLA, that mayors of Vancouver and New Westminster may be Liberal candidates in the coming election. "We are hopeful Mayor Fred Hume and Mayor Toby Jackson will both run," he said. Mr. Laing will address the Laurier Club at the Monterey Restaurant tonight. (See Page 13.) (Times photo.)

RCMP Snare Key Figures In Vancouver Drug Drive

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Twenty-eight persons, including three "key figures" in international drug traffic, were under arrest today after a lone Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer risked his life in a two-month masquerade as a drug addict in Vancouver's teeming underworld.

The officer, referred to only as "Mountie X," broke the biggest round-up of drug offenders in Canadian history by buying supplies from peddlers and later working his way into the close-knit illicit traffic until he became in demand as a peddler himself.

King pins included in the round-up were Norman Talbot, 36, known as a peddler and traffiker; George Eldridge, 39, another peddler and traffiker, and Walter Dowhal, 23, a peddler and distributor.

Police explained that the traffiker was the man who distributed the drug in wholesale lots to peddlers after receiving the supplies from the distributor or wholesaler.

Police declined comment on the international source of the drugs. The 28 rounded up were charged today as peddlers and bail was set for all, except one, at $15,000 each when they were remanded for eight days. Talbot's bail was set at $20,000.

With fellow-officers giving him surveillance where ever possible, the lone investigator risked his life and became "so good he was pestered all the time by other addicts wanting to buy from him," one of his superiors said.

The spokesman said the investigator, whose name will be withheld until the roundup is completed, was "associated with all levels of this vicious trade, ranging from the common criminal addict to the more important distributors."

The officer said the cleanup was the biggest in Canadian history, and wiped out 90 per cent of the drug traffic in this port city. It started with a series of raids by 18 RCMP officers and four city detectives Wednesday. By midnight 28 had been arrested and warrants were out for two more persons on charges of selling drugs. Seven of the arrested were women.

The RCMP said the previous high for drug arrests in the city was 17 in January, 1952.

Pro-Peron Mob Burns, Loots in Capital

Violent Aftermath Follows Bombing at Buenos Aires; 6 Killed, 92 Hurt in Explosions

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Rioting pro-Peron mobs stormed unrestrained through the Argentine capital Wednesday and early today, burning and sacking opposition centres in a violent aftermath to a bombing at a rally addressed by President Juan D. Peron.

The government announced that six persons were killed and 92 injured in the two bomb explosions that stampeded the crowd gathered Wednesday in the city's central Plaza de Mayo. Peron was not hurt.

Headquarters of all Argentine opposition parties — except the Communists—went up in flames before the raging mobs that chanted "viva Peron" as they looted and burned. The fashionable Jockey Club, centre of Argentine high society, was also put to the torch.

Scores of persons suffered minor injuries during the rioting but no serious casualties were reported. The government announced that a North American citizen was among several persons arrested for questioning in connection with the bombing. It identified him as Esteban Jacyna of Herkimer, N.Y., a trainer with a touring circus.

In addition to destroying the Jockey Club, the rioters fired the headquarters of the Radical, Socialist and Democratic-Conservative parties and wrecked restaurants and bars before some semblance of quiet was restored to the centre of the city.

Violence and looting continued early today, however, in nearby residential areas.

Police halted motor traffic in the streets before the burning building, but no organized effort was made to stop the sacking or put out the fires. A band of reinforced federal police stood precautionary guard over the independent newspaper La Nacion, only five blocks from the Jockey Club, but no attacks were made against the building.

The violence marred what had been planned as a triumphal celebration for Peron. The Plaza de Mayo meeting had been called by the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor as a demonstration of united support for the president, now battling to control soaring prices and end a meat shortage.

U.S. President Seizes Initiative In Momentous Speech

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower challenged Russia's new leaders today to prove their will for peace by ending the Korean war, lifting the Iron Curtain from satellite countries and joining a world disarmament pact that would outlaw atomic weapons.

He seized the diplomatic initiative from the Communists in a major foreign policy speech listing specific "deeds" the Russians can perform to demonstrate the sincerity of their recent peace talk.

He said the death of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin has given his Kremlin successors "a precious chance to turn the black tide of events" sweeping the world toward atomic war, but warned that "we do not yet know" whether they mean to do it.

Mr. Eisenhower interrupted his golfing vacation at Augusta, Ga., and flew here to deliver the 3,500-word address before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He planned to return to Augusta late this afternoon.

President Eisenhower's talk on foreign policy and international affairs today will be rebroadcast on CBC's trans-Canada network from 5 to 5.30 this afternoon.

Diplomatic circles hailed the speech as a "momentous" declaration of the new administration's readiness to negotiate a just cold war settlement with Russia.

The main points of the broad U.S. policy he sketched were:

1. This country is ready to enter into a five-point world disarmament treaty providing for an outright ban on atomic weapons, definite limitations on the size of each nation's armed forces, and "a practical system of inspection under the United Nations" to enforce the rules.

2. If disarmament can be achieved, the United States will join other countries in setting up a "fund for world aid and reconstruction" out of billions saved on military preparations.

3. "The first great step" toward a general world settlement "must be the conclusion of an honorable armistice in Korea." This should be followed immediately by "political discussions leading to the holding of free elections in a united Korea."

4. A Korean truce "would be a fraud" unless the Communists simultaneously call off their aggressions against Indo-China and Malaya. The Soviet attitude on this question will show whether the Communists seek "merely an expedient truce in Korea" or "genuine peace in Asia."

5. Russia can demonstrate good faith in Europe by (a) freeing Communist satellite countries to choose "their own forms of government"; (b) releasing "thousands of prisoners still held from the Second World War"; and (c) agreeing to an Austrian peace treaty without further delay.

6. The United States is willing to work for a "united Germany, with a government based on free and secret elections." But the German problem cannot be separated from the broader question of lifting the Iron Curtain throughout Europe to open the way for "free movement of persons, of trade and of ideas.

Mr. Eisenhower said the whole world will be waiting to hear Russia's answer to these challenges, and asked that "whatever the answer be, let it be plainly spoken."

"The auger for peace is too great, the hour in history too late, for any government to mock men's hopes with mere words and promises and gestures," he said.

"The test of truth is simple. There can be no persuasion but by deeds."

He was cautiously hopeful that Russia may now be ready for peaceful deeds.

"A new leadership has assumed power in the Soviet Union. Its links to the past, however strong, cannot bind it completely. Its future is, in great part, its own to make."

He appealed to the new Kremlin leaders to face the grim fact that there is no real hope for any nation unless the opposing powers halt their present atomic arms race.

EISENHOWER TRANSLATES WAR COSTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower calculated today that if taxpayers' money could be diverted from war to peace, 30 modern brick schools or two hospitals could be built for what it costs to make one heavy bomber.

Translating war costs into peace items, the president said:

"The cost of one modern heavy bomber is this:

"A modern brick school in more than 30 cities.

"Two electric power plants, each serving a town of 60,000 population.

"Two fine, fully equipped hospitals.

"Some 50 miles of concrete highway.

"We pay for a single fighter plane with 500,000 bushels of wheat.

"We pay for a single destroyer with new homes that could have housed more than 8,000 people."

Mass Arrests of Douks Contemplated by A-G

Bonner Says Facilities Being Built In Readiness for Nude Paraders

The provincial government, apparently adopting a "get tough" policy with law-breaking Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, is preparing facilities to cope with mass arrests in the Kootenay country.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, just returned from the trouble spot, said today an "increasingly firm attitude" will be taken by provincial authorities towards the hard core Freedomites regarding taxation and school attendance.

The attorney-general said the government is prepared to cope with the expected initial reaction to this policy, which probably will be mass nude parading and demonstrations leading to wide-scale arrests and imprisonment. (See story page 2).

Facilities are now under construction, and more are contemplated, to house those taken in mass arrests, he said.

"Regarding all recent incidents, it should be clearly recognized that arrests have not taken place only for want of evidence.

"This government is prepared to treat any member of the Freedomite sect against whom it has evidence of lawlessness in the same fashion as any other resident of this province is treated."

The attorney-general said despite heavy concentrations of RCMP in the area, and virtually all the bloodhounds available, no evidence has been obtained which would lead to conviction of any of the arsonists.

He said all evidence suggested that the fires were being set by the Sons of Freedom within their own communities and in some cases by the home owners themselves.

Mayhew Ill, Not Serious

PUSAN, Korea (Reuters) — The condition of Robert W. Mayhew, Canadian ambassador to Japan who was suddenly taken ill and rushed to hospital Wednesday night, was stated today to be "not serious."

Mayhew, 72, was to greet Canadian troops who arrived here today.

The British legation said Mayhew would be able to return to Tokyo tonight or Friday. Details of his illness were not given.

Hockey Game on Air

Tonight's Stanley Cup hockey playoff between Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins at Montreal will be broadcast over CBC from 6.35 to end of game.

OUTLOOK FOR THE FOREST INDUSTRY

Market Good if B.C. Can Meet Competition

By DON INGHAM
Times Staff Reporter

A substantial market—not excellent, but good—is waiting for B.C. lumber and wood products if lumber, pulp and plywood mills can meet competition in the world market.

Marketing conditions for goods produced by the timber industry, which contributes 54 cents to every dollar of the province's income, are being examined closely by all concerned in the industry in view of the opening this week of negotiations between operators and the International Woodworkers of America (CCL), bargaining agent for 32,000 loggers and sawmill workers.

The United States, which last year took 2,249,000,000 feet of lumber from the province, gives every indication of buying as much, if not more, in 1953.

Comparatively low water freight rates allow B.C. shippers to compete in the big eastern U.S. construction market, which likely will be expanded this year by about 3 per cent. To date, though, there are no signs of unusual buying activity south of the border.

Unknown quantity in the list of leading world buyers is the United Kingdom, which bought 772,000,000 feet of B.C. lumber in 1952, roughly one-third that shipped to the United States.

The United Kingdom prefers B.C. wood, but is not averse to buying elsewhere if a good bargain can be made, and is hamstrung by a dollar shortage.

However, the reality of scarce log supplies lies behind a bit of bluffing and jockeying being indulged in by Sweden and Finland, which last year filled two-thirds of Britain's needs.

Russia's activity in the export market seems to be more because it is the "thing to do" rather than from a sincere en-
